Red Boss Predicts Concrete Results At Big Four Talks

Attends July 4 Party

By KENNETH BRODNEY
(United Press Correspondent)

MOSCOW (UP) — Nikita Khrushchev, Russia's new "strong man," paid an unprecented visit to the U.S. embassy yesterday and told American officials that real results can be expected from the Geneva "Big Four" conference.

Khrushchev, accompanied by Premier Nicolai Bulganin and former premier Georgi Malenkov, sipped champagne and ate ice cream at the embassy's Independence Day garden party.

It marked the first time in the 22 years of diplomatic relations between the U.S. and the Soviet Union that a Russian chief of state had called at the embassy.

Khrushchev and other Russian officals chatted and partook of refreshments with American newsmen, who for the first time were allowed to attend and record a conversation between U.S. and Soviet representatives.

SINCERE TALKS

Khrushchev said real results could be expected at the Geneva "top-level" conference, if the West talks with the Soviets "honestly and sincerely." He indicated that the Soviets' willingness to co-operate at the conference did not spring from weakness. He emphasized that the Soviet Union was strong.

"If you talk with us honestly and sincerely, as equal to equal," Khrushchev said, "something will come of it."

The Soviet Communist party chief was accompanied by Premier Nikolai Bulganin, former premier Georgi Malenkov, and all other members of the nine-man Communist party presidium except President Klementi Voroshilov and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Khrushchev spoke at great length of the internal strength of the Soviet Union.

He said the West would make a great mistake if it underestimated this strength.

"The Soviet Union has never been in a more solid position," he said.

The Soviet dignitaries also spoke freely with western newsmen and other diplomats.

But it was evident Khrushchev had come mainly to make a statement to the envoys of the three western powers for the serious consideration of Washington, London and Paris —and to make a play to world opinion.

Khrushchev spoke of the speculation in the western press by "responsible people, official people and irresponsible people —all kinds of people."

"They pay little attention to what we say and prefer to read tea leaves and then they wonder why the Soviet Union has made so many proposals that please the West so much.

"There are many people," Khrushchev continued, "many people in the United States who do not understand—and not only in the U.S., but also in France and Great Britain —and there are still people who are wondering why. We say about these people who think this way . . ."

(Here Khrushchev asked whether any ladies were present, and when answered there were none, cited the following Russian proverb):

"If a mother-in-law has been unfaithful, she will not believe in the virtue of the wife of her son."

Miss Swim-Suit Home

Here she is—Doreen Wells, "Miss Victoria" and Canada's "Miss Swimsuit, 1955." It's easy to see why. She also won the title "Miss Congeniality" in a vote taken by the 23 "Miss Canada" contestants. Doreen, 18, lives with her parents on Quadra, is a head teller at the B.C. Telephone Company. Her phone calls, however, are mostly at home. (See story on Page 15.)

Upset in Alberta

Socred Minister Defeated

LUCIEN MAYNARD

Alberta's attorney general, Lucien Maynard, was defeated on the second count of Wednesday's ballots by Arthur Soetaert, Liberal, in Edmonton, it was announced last night. At the same time two CCF candidates were declared winners in their constituencies, S. N. Ruzycki, Vegreville, and Nick Dushenski, in Willingdon, both on second counts.

EDMONTON (CP) — A Social Credit cabinet minister was defeated, the president of the Alberta Progressive Conservative Association was elected and two CCF candidates were declared winners in results announced Monday night of balloting in last Wednesday's provincial general election.

Attorney-General Lucien Maynard, a Social Credit "original," was defeated in St. Albert by a Liberal.

W. J. C. (Cam) Kirby, the Progressive Conservative, won re-election in Red Deer.

The CCF winners, the first victories for their party in the June 29 balloting, were Stan N. Ruzycki in Vegreville and Nick W. Dushensky in Willingdon.

The Social Credit party won its sixth consecutive victory in Alberta general elections by winning 36 of the 61 seats at stake.

Liberals won 11 seats, Progressive Conservatives three, CCF nominees two and one seat each went to a Liberal-Progressive Conservative, a Coalition candidate and an independent.

Coastal Airlift Ready

Queen Charlotte Islands, Stewart and some 35 other B.C. ports will be served by luxury passenger aircraft turned into seatless freighter planes if a shipping strike which began Sunday produces an emergency.

Union Steamships' 13 vessels are being tied up as the Seafarers' International Union (AFL) struck to back demands for a 12½ per cent wage boost and 32 cents an hour increase in overtime rates.

Norman Cunningham, SIU agent at Vancouver, declined comment when asked if the strike would be extended to CPR steamers and others which supply majority of the needs of Vancouver Island residents. CPR spokesmen said they had "no information."

Canadian Pacific Airlines disclosed seats would be ripped out of 40-passenger Convairs to maintain food supplies to thousands completely isolated by the strike. Other air companies were expected to follow suit.

CPA was holding a four-engined DC-4 in reserve for an all-out airlift. Every inch of cargo space was crammed with supplies on flights to Sandspit and Port Hardy, and CPA was advising passengers for Kitimat to use the inland route to Terrace to keep coastal airlines free for freight.

The 350 seamen, whose basic wages range from $200 for a deckhand to $260 for a chief cook, voted in April to strike over failure of the company to meet the wage demands, despite 15 months of negotiations.

Hardest hit by the strike are the 3,200 residents of the Queen Charlotte Islands and the 1,000 persons in Stewart, most northerly port in B.C. Strike also isolates scores of logging camps, fishing villages and Indian settlements.

Takes Command

REAR-ADMIRAL
H. F. PULLEN

Rear-Admiral H. F. Pullen will take over from Rear-Admiral J. C. Hibbard Wednesday and will officially assume the position of Flag Officer Pacific Coast on Thursday, the navy announced yesterday.

Turkey Cracks Spy Ring

ISTANBUL, Turkey (Reuters)—Istanbul police have uncovered a large Bulgarian spy network and arrested the vice-consul here of Communist Bulgaria, it was announced tonight.

Alaadin Eris, director of security Istanbul, named the vice-consul as Georgi Barbanof Cholakof.

Eris said at a press conference that police had by order of a military court also arrested Ali Demirof, a refugee from Bulgaria, and others, including an "important person" whose name was not disclosed.

He charged the 38-year-old Bulgarian vice-consul was one of the leaders of the espionage ring and said he was arrested on Unkapani bridge over the Den Horn, while speaking with Ali Demirof late at night.

Eris added that police found important documents on Cholakof proving the existence of an espionage net. It is understood the government is to hand a note to the Bulgarian government asking for the recall of some Bulgarian diplomats.

Bank Sues Bandit

VANCOUVER (CP) — Daniel Haddon, convicted of robbing a Royal Bank of Canada branch of $10,545, is being sued by the bank for recovery of the money.

Haddon, 40, was convicted of the armed robbery and sentenced to 15 years. He is appealing.

The suit was opened in Supreme Court here Monday.

Tupper Summons Officer

VANCOUVER (CP) — Fred Dougherty, President of the Police Federal Union, has been subpoenaed to appear before the Tupper commission investigating alleged corruption and laxity in the Vancouver police force.

It is believed that Dougherty will be questioned about action of the union's some months ago, which passed a "want of confidence" motion in Chief Constable Walter Mulligan and the police commission.

The union had stated prior to the subpoena that it would be willing to offer testimony critical of the police force administration.

Indications are that the regular day-long sessions of the royal commission will not get under way until next week.

Commissioner Reginald H. Tupper said Monday that he would not disclose plans for the hearing until it officially opens at 2:30 p.m. today.

Towed In on Ice Floe

Plane Owners Win Salvage Gamble

CHURCHILL, Man. (CP)—An ice floe bearing a crippled four-engine airliner was tugged into harbor here early Monday, promising a pay-off in a long-shot salvage gamble by the plane's owners.

The transport, a DC-4 belonging to United States overseas airlines, ran out of gas and was forced down on the ice of Hudson bay May 18 after delivering a hush-hush cargo to a post on the Distant Early Warning radar line. Five men aboard were rescued but the plane was too badly damaged to take off again.

Insurance companies declared the $600,000 plane a total loss and are reported to have paid full compensation. But airlines president James Cox persuaded them to sell him back salvage rights for $5,000 and set out to work to save the plane.

A salvage crew was put aboard the ice floe by helicopter and a sister DC-4 dropped bales of hay and sawdust to insulate the ice from the hot June sun.

The ice island was 40 miles northeast of Churchill, 610 miles north of Winnipeg, when the operation started. As the bay ice began to break up it drifted another 20 miles out to sea and for a time was lost in fog.

During the week-end the weather cleared and two boats and three canoes got lines on the floating pan, dubbed "floe 407." They tugged it into the harbor and "docked" it at the national harbors board pier.

Next move will be to beach the plane.

It was not known immediately how much the airline might clear on the scheme. It was reported to have invested $150,000 in equipment for salvage including two light planes and a helicopter.

While the operation was in progress, the salvage crew lived in the stranded plane. The helicopter flew hot meals from Churchill.

'Expect To Be Here'

St. Laurent Hints He'll Run Again

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent dropped a strong hint Monday that he plans to lead the Liberal party through the next federal general election, expected in 1957 or 1958.

The prime minister, a robust 73, led the Liberals to victory at the polls in the 1949 and 1953 general elections after succeeding the late Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King as prime minister and party leader in 1948.

His hint came in a compromise offer to end the current marathon debate in the Commons on defence production powers. He committed his government to a review of the extraordinary powers if it were sought three years from now by any member who introduced a bill to this effect.

Mr. St. Laurent said:

"Honorable members may say, 'You are talking about three years from now; there will be an election before that time three years from now and you may not be here to carry out your undertaking.'

"In reply to such a suggestion, may I say that all of us on this side (Liberal side of the Commons) expect to be here three years from now to carry out any undertaking that we give to the House and to the country."

INCLUDES HIMSELF

Informants said later that the prime minister was including himself, and not just referring to the Liberal party in general terms, when he said "All of us . . . expect to be here three years from now."

They said Mr. St. Laurent has made it clear to his associates that he intends to lead the Liberals in the next general election.

Philippine Senator Sought

OTTAWA (CP) — President Raymon Magsaysay of the Philippines Monday sent an urgent telegram to Canadian authorities for assistance in locating a Philippines senator believed in Canada.

The cablegram, dispatched from Manila to Ottawa police chief Duncan MacDonell, said President Magsaysay is anxious to get in touch with Senator Tomas Gabili at once by overseas telephone.

The president's message apparently was sent to police because the Philippines has no diplomatic representation in Canada.

Not Queen's Fault

Duke Tells Boys Why He Lost Beard

EDINBURGH (Reuters) — The Duke of Edinburgh Monday told why he shaved off the moustache and beard he grew while serving in the Royal Navy during the war.

He was visiting Fettes College here when he saw a boy in the art room painting a bandit, whom he had given a rather uneven black moustache.

"That is just what happened when I grew a beard," the duke said jokingly to the boy. "One side went up and the other side went down. In the end I had to shave it off."

Before the duke revealed this "secret," Britons had believed that the Queen, then Princess Elizabeth, saw him with his moustache and beard during a leave and ordered him to shave it off.

Man Dies In Leap To Harbor

An elderly Chinese, Wong King Yong, 546 Cormorant, was taken dead from the water of the inner harbor last night a few minutes after he leapt from Point Ellice bridge.

Ken Andrest, a crewman aboard the ferry Canora, saw the man jump to his death about 6 p.m.

Two other crew members, Bert Walker and Fred Bailey, lowered a rowboat and recovered the body.

Wong was taken to a log boom where police and firemen attempted to revive him before rushing him to Royal Jubilee Hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Rich Widow Found Slain

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mrs. Lulubel Rossman, 65-year-old well-to-do Philadelphia widow, was found strangled to death in her 12th-floor room at a mid-town hotel here Monday.

Police said they were without immediate clues to the slayer of the woman, widow of Palen P. Rossman, former senior partner in a firm of certified public accountants.

Veteran Offers Eye to Man He Blinded

Senseless To Put This Man in Jail, Court Says

VANCOUVER (CP) — An air force veteran who offered to give an eye to the man he unwittingly blinded was released Monday by the Court of Appeal on suspended sentence.

Neal Deaville McDonald, 29-year-old smelter worker at Kimberley, B.C., was sentenced to 18 months when he was convicted of assault at Cranbrook June 1.

The incident occurred at a dance when a dispute arose over the merits of television and radio.

Abraham Baumbach, 32, was hit by McDonald and as the result of his glasses being broken, lost the sight of his one good eye.

As counsel for McDonald, M. A. Manson produced evidence to the Court of Appeal Monday that McDonald had offered one of his own eyes.

Baumbach's doctor reported it would be of no use under the circumstances.

McDonald then began to contribute some $40 to $50 monthly toward the support of Baumbach's family, Mr. Manson said.

"It doesn't seem to make sense," said Mr. Justice C. H. O'Halloran, "to send a man of this type to jail for 18 months where he can not earn any money for either his own family or Baumbach's.

"This court has no hesitation in allowing him out on probation to go back to his job and support his wife and two children and help the person he has unwittingly injured."

McDonald was put on $1,000 bond for one year.

Thomas Kicks Off At 5.35 a.m. Today

By PETER BRUTON
(Colonist Staff Reporter)

PORT ANGELES, Wash.—Big Bert Thomas yesterday took time off for Independence Day celebrations as he rested up in preparation for his fifth assault on Juan de Fuca strait at 5.35 a.m. today.

It will be the first time he has tackled his now familiar enemy from the U.S. shore.

"I think it's going to be a lot easier from this side," said the Tacoman, after a 3½-hour workout off Ediz Hook Sunday. "If I can make Race Rocks in time for the flood, I'll be home-free."

HEADS DUE NORTH

Thomas will leave from Ediz Hook on the big ebb tide and will head due north towards Victoria. The tide will carry him westward until the flood when he hopes to be off Church point on Vancouver Island. He will then skirt Bentinck Island inside Race Rocks.

Most difficult part of the swim will come about five miles out when Thomas has to buck a two-mile-wide stretch of rips and eddies. His American navigator, Capt. Loring Hyde, estimates Thomas will cover the course in eight to nine hours.

The powerful ex-U.S. Marine amazed Port Angeles observers with his speed and endurance during Sunday's swim. And to swim officials and newsmen associated with him in Victoria during the past four months, Thomas has never appeared more cheerful. He jests continually and his stroking is stronger than formerly.

"We had a hard time keeping the stroke rate down to 27 a minute," said Ove Witt. "The rate was way up in the thirties and Bert was full of energy."

Thomas started out an hour later than the time slated by Captain Hyde and although weather conditions were perfect he came out of the water after covering close to seven miles when it seemed unlikely he would make Race rocks in time to catch the flood. Earlier he had said if conditions were right he would go all the way.

Yesterday Thomas took his wife, Mary, and his daughter, Sharon Lee, to Tacoma for the July 4 celebration. On his return last night, he said weather conditions look very good for today's attempt.

"Tell the people of Victoria that I'll give them a real show when I get over there," he told The Daily Colonist. "I'm going to swim an extra mile up the Inner-harbor and will land at the causeway. And I'm going to sprint the last 100 yards."

Daily Colonist Swim Class Gets Off to Good Start

Everything went "swimmingly" when 110 Greater Victoria children splashed around in Elk Lake yesterday to begin the third year of The Daily Colonist summer swim classes.

"The air was a little cold but the water was lovely and warm," said Mrs. Marge Naysmith, who has conducted the classes since their inception.

"We just had one little girl who cried, but she went in later," she said. "It all went beautifully and everybody seemed very happy."

RECORD ENROLLMENT

Part of a record enrollment of some 750 youngsters, boys and girls aged from 8 to 14, yesterday began the eight-week course [illegible] called "the art of kicking."

Children who journey to Happyland beach today will receive similar instruction as they commence six weeks of free swim lessons followed by two weeks of tests.

No one was late for class, said Mrs. Naysmith, as complex transportation arrangements brought eager young swimmers [illegible] to learn and enjoy themselves.

New Type Vaccine Tested in Britain

LONDON (AP)—Health Minister Iain Macleod told the House of Commons Monday Britain is experimenting with an anti-polio vaccine cultured in egg which could be taken by mouth. However, he rejected a suggestion to cancel orders for the American Salk vaccine on the strength of the new experiments.

Lost Boy Scout, Parents Reunited

Victoria Boy Scouts who are tramping from Port Renfrew to Bamfield were at Carmanah light-house last night.

Light-keeper Jerry Wellard went to meet them and brought their packs the last few miles by rowboat.

Bob Strachan, the 13-year-old member of the party who got lost and spent two days in a bush cabin, has met his parents at Shawnigan lake.

The 12 remaining Scouts are continuing the tramp today, said leader Chris Pike at Carmanah last night.

"We were all tired but have had a wonderful meal here and are all ready for tomorrow," he said.

Eat Your Troubles Away

Leaf Lettuce Better Although Cheaper

Those who are undernourished and don't realize it will find a guide to better health and greater vigor in "Eat Your Troubles Away," latest work by Lelord Kordel, researcher and lecturer on nutrition, appearing regularly in The Daily Colonist.

By LELORD KORDEL

Lettuce is another year-around vegetable coming in five forms. The Boston head is medium-sized, light green outside with a yellow head. The Hanson is a darker green outside with a yellow centre and curlier leaves. The Iceberg is medium in size, with well-curved leaves and a wide heart. The New York is a larger head and more globular (not flattening on top). Its leaves are curly and a darker green. Romaine is the long-leaved variety. Leaf lettuce is the open bunch form.

The greener the lettuce, the higher the value in vitamins. Leaf lettuce (being more exposed to the sun and higher in vitamins) is a better food even though it sells cheaper than others.

Select lettuce that is crisp, fresh, green-leaved.

Heads are so close that only the outer leaves need washing. Chill until serving time as heat wilts lettuce badly. Keep with stem end up. The longer this stem, the better the keeping qualities. A red, rusty tinge on the edges of the inner leaves indicates overkeeping.

Lettuce may be cooked in almost no water (just that which clings after washing). Cover for the first few minutes until the juices start flowing and then cook uncovered five to ten minutes altogether.

In ancient Rome, lettuce was prescribed for dropsy, insomnia and toothache. Modern nutritionists give lettuce credit as a mineralizer and alkalizer. Diabetics may use it freely. Useful in constipation and in acid condition of the system. Should not be used if the stomach is irritated or in ulcers and colitis.

Mushrooms are used largely for seasoning. Select buttons or cap mushrooms that are firm, clean, moist and fresh, rather than dry and shriveled.

Mushrooms often turn dark when exposed to light. Should they turn dark in your home, do not discard them. Merely peel off the darkened skin and the meat underneath will be white.

Keep mushrooms in their boxes out of the sun in a cool, dark spot or in the refrigerator.

They should be cooked in their own juices and covered. To start the juices flowing, saute in a small amount of butter for about three to five minutes, or bake under glass bells 15 to 25 minutes.

The young leaves of several species of mustard are used for salad or cooked as greens. They have a strong acrid flavor and are often mixed with milder flavored green vegetables: spinach for cooking and cress for salads.

Okra is a year-around vegetable. Select tender young pods of fresh green. Fresh pods are brittle, old pods are soft. Okra needs lots of air and should be loosely piled up for best keeping. Never sprinkle or wet it until ready to use, or dark, soft spots will develop.

Boil, steam, use in soups or stews, but never cook okra in an iron kettle. Steaming is best.

Okra has a low carbohydrate and protein content, practically no fat; is relatively high in calcium, and has appreciable amounts of iron and vitamins A and B1. It is one of the finest healing vegetables for colitis, ulcers, intestinal irritations.

There are about five kinds of onions common to household use. Early summer varieties do not keep well but the late summer ones do. They must be kept cool and dry to prevent sprouting.

Because of their strong odor they should be kept away from other foods. The strength of flavor of onions generally varies with the color of the skin—the lighter yellow the skin the milder the flavor, and the darker brown the skin the stronger the flavor.

Onions are best cooked in an uncovered kettle in water to cover, even though it means some loss in vitamins.

Nutritionally, raw onions are excellent sources of vitamin C, iron and copper. They are stimulants to the gastric tract. They often cause flatulence and irritability — although boiling reduces this tendency.

Useful for loss of appetite, in hyperchlorhydria, and in some forms of gastritis. Diabetics may use them. Avoid onion in kidney, vascular, and skin diseases; ulcers and colitis; cystitis and most forms of dyspepsia.

Garden Notes

Asparagus Due For Pampering

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

It isn't good gardening to go on cutting asparagus much after Dominion Day. From here on in, everything possible should be done to build up large, strong plants which will crop heavily next year.

The trick here is to encourage the production of lots of healthy and vigorous top growth. The more strong stems and good green leaves there are, the better the chances for lots and lots of tender asparagus tips next spring.

It is permissible to take a little of the "fern" for mixing with your sweet pea bouquets, but don't overdo it, as every bit of foliage has an important part to play in the development of strong roots.

DOUBTFUL BENEFIT

It was the practice of old-time gardeners to give their beds of asparagus a dressing of salt along about this time of the year. I am not very favorably disposed toward this treatment, for, while salt may convey some benefit when the soil is light and sandy, it can cause a lot of irreparable damage to the structure of heavier types of soil.

"To my mind, it is far better to give the beds a fairly heavy dressing of fish meal, one cupful to the square yard, scratching it lightly into the soil between the plants and watering it in.

If you don't have any fish meal fertilizer in your store of garden supplies, you can substitute one of the liquid fish emulsions now on the market, using it in the recommended dosage as given on the bottle.

This should be followed with another feed, either of fish meal or emulsion, about the end of August, with frequent and copious waterings in between.

As asparagus is a maritime plant, your beds will benefit if they are given a little touch of sea water occasionally through the balance of the summer.

Use about a quart of sea water in your two-gallon watering can, diluted with fresh water, and this is enough for two square yards of bed. The sea water will replenish the supply of minerals and minor elements so often in short supply in our soil.

WIND PROTECTION

Never allow gales or high winds to play havoc with the tall stems of your plants, as these can easily snap off at the base. You can put stakes around the bed and stretch binder twine from stake to stake, or you can use bushy pea sticks pushed carefully into the soil between the plants. These will provide the necessary support, and if it is done right away, the feathery foliage will grow up and conceal the twiggy sticks.

Keep a sharp lookout for the asparagus beetle, who is a handsome little fellow, black and red, with black and yellow wing cases. If you see him, dust or spray immediately with any good garden insecticide.

Secret Course

Vancouver Housewife Leaves After Midnight

Mrs. Ann Meraw, 36-year-old Vancouver housewife, will strike out from Clover point shortly after midnight tonight in an attempt to conquer Juan de Fuca strait.

She will not be wearing cold-[illegible] when she enters the chilly water bound for Port Angeles on a course that is still secret.

Her route has been charted by Gus Norman, who will lead the way in the cruiser Skeena. Mrs. Meraw's work boat.

Her husband, Joe, and 15-year-old son, Bill, will be aboard Skeena.

Mrs. Meraw, a marathon swimmer of note in her teens, was quietly confident last night.

"I've put a lot of work into this try," she said. She trained at Vancouver for several months before setting up a finishing camp at Sidney.

She has put in much time in the water, and says she was not affected by the cold.

Mrs. Meraw's coach is Pat Roach, famous Toronto swim authority.

The swimmer is resting at Sidney hotel today.

She is the fourth woman swimmer to try to beat the strait—following Florence Chadwick [illegible] White.

Tories Reject Compromise, Charge Howe Rules Cabinet

OTTAWA (CP) — Progressive Conservatives Monday abruptly rejected a compromise offer by Prime Minister St. Laurent aimed at overcoming their objections to indefinite continuation of the broad powers of Defence Production Minister Howe.

Howard Green, speaking for the Conservatives, termed it an obvious move to save face for Mr. Howe [illegible] his party's demand for a time limit on the powers.

He said the cabinet is admitting it is "a spineless lot" afraid to stand up to Mr. Howe.

"Canada in effect has one-man rule with a vengeance," Mr. Green said.

The front-bench Conservative member for Vancouver Quadra was giving his party's reply to Mr. St. Laurent's proposal under which any member could call for amendment of the Defence Production Act's powers after three years. The government would provide special priority for debate on such a motion.

DECLINE TIME LIMIT

Mr. St. Laurent said, however, the government is not prepared to put any definite time limit on the act's powers, which a bill before the House would extend indefinitely. They are due to expire July 31 next year.

He said his proposal for review after three years was similar to one made in 1950 involving the wide powers of the Emergency Powers Act, which lapsed last session. The country suffered no serious consequences from the fact that emergency powers were granted at that time.

Mr. Green said the prime minister's offer was "hocus-pocus."

"That is a sham, an obvious sham designed for one purpose—to save the face of the minister of defence production," he said.

Mr. Green said the prime minister's refusal to set a time limit on the powers means the cabine is saying "We're going to give the miniser his tools . . . We're afraid to stand up to him. We're a spineless lot."

The cabinet was prepared to let Mr. Howe "defy Parliament and take whatever powers he wants to assume."

"Why should Canadians have to submit to a tyranny of that kind at this time?"

Burrowing Hose Gone for Good

DOWNEY, Calif. (UP) — Beleaguered Georgi di Peso yesterday saw the ghastly hose abuse steady burrowing into the ground has brought him world-wide attention.

"I cut it off," di Peso said. "I covered up the hole and now I want to forget about the whole thing."

"These sightseers and phone calls have been driving me nuts."

Di Peso earlier had announced his intention to dig into his lawn to find out what was making the hose disappear.

"But I decided it was too close to the house and besides it would ruin my yard," he explained. "I still don't know what made it go down like that. But I wish it had never happened."

flocked to his home by the hundreds to see the disappearing hose.

"I finally had to turn on the water to get rid of them," he said.

Di Peso said he had no plans to investigate the disappearing hose and offered only sympathy for others who reported similar occurrences.

Robert Breeze, also of Downey, reported his hose disappearing but theorized it was caused by water action. He put the hose down a gopher hole and turned on the water. The hose sank into the earth and was impossible to extricate, Breeze said, because earth settles around it.

In nearby Norwalk, Calvin Barham dug the five feet necessary to extricate his garden hose from the earth but still was at a loss to explain the phenomenon.

Umbrella for Cities

Whole cities could be given year-round weather conditioning by shielding them with domes made of these new air-filled plastic "bricks," according to the inventors, Prof. A. C. Richardson, left, of the University of Illinois, and Maj. G. W. McCauley of the U.S. air force. Crops could also be protected from winds, hail and snow, they say. The three-foot-high bubble in the picture weighs only 10 pounds.

City Yachtsmen Take Prizes In International Regatta

Victoria yachtsmen sailed away with four prizes while competing against the best craft in the northwest at the Pacific International Yachting regatta at Port Townsend, Wash., at the week-end.

Royal Victoria Yacht Club prize-winners were Max Young's Skoal, first in the C-class [illegible] second in the Cub class, and Jorgen Baess' two-Bits, third in the Dragon event.

Third place in the C-class race was won by Silven Heron, Lt.-Cmdr. Roy Smith, of Esquimalt RCN Sailing Association.

Skoal, a Danish-built craft purchased by Mr. Young last fall, was skippered by his son Peter. It was Skoal's first international competition.

UPSET VICTORY

Gordon Inglis surprised the experts when he sailed his two-month-old Panic to second place in the Cub-class event.

Built by Mr. Inglis, it was [illegible] events in the regatta, and given little chance of placing.

Another dark-horse finisher was the Esquimalt naval entry, which forged through to third place after a poor, windless start.

Class A winner was Serada, Seattle victor of this year's Swiftsure race.

Martin Denies Charge

OTTAWA (CP)—Health Minister Martin today denied a statement attributed to an official of his department that most blind Canadians do not want their sight restored because they would lose their $40-a-month blind allowance.

Thomas Barnett (CCF—Comox-Alberni) asked the minister in the Commons to comment on a story which appeared in the June issue of Liberty magazine. He said the article quotes Dr. J. H. Grove, chief of the blindness control division, as saying that "the great majority of Canadians who now are blind, even though their sight could be restored, preferred to remain so in order to continue drawing the $40-a-month blindness allowance."

Mr. Martin said he discussed the article with Dr. Grove and learned that the statement attributed to him was removed from context. He was not the "author of any thing such as is suggested in the article."

New York Girl Licks Lake Erie

CRYSTAL BEACH, Ont. (CP)—Greta Patterson, an 18-year-old blonde who aspires to conquer Lake Ontario, licked part of Lake Erie Monday when she became the first person to swim the 15 miles from Angola, N. Y., to this Ontario resort area.

The good-looking teen-ager from Batavia, N. Y., touched a dock here 12 hours and 44 minutes after she dived into the soupwarm lake at Angola.

About 20,000 persons on the shoreline here gave a tremendous cheer as Miss Patterson was pulled from the lake by her trainer and friends. She was placed in a boat and taken to a first aid station for a rest.

Although tired, Miss Patterson was elated over her swim and said:

"I'm so happy. It's so wonderful. Everyone was pulling for me."

Two men failed to finish: William Gehrke, 19, and Laverne C. Leipher, 21, of Buffalo, were surprise starters, diving in shortly after Miss Patterson. Gehrke lasted six hours before he was taken out. Leipher was in less than three hours.

This swim was Miss Patterson's tuneup for her attempt to beat the 32 miles of Lake Ontario from Youngstown, N. Y., to Toronto.

Judge To Have Surgery Today

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mr. Justice A. M. Manson is scheduled to undergo surgery in Vancouver General hospital today. He entered hospital Saturday and expects to resume his Supreme Court duties about Aug. 8. His unexpected illness delayed the trial of Joseph Carriere, George E. Martin and George Bier on 34 counts of false pretences, receiving and retaining stolen money, burglary, theft and dealing in forged documents.

Dockers Strike In Australia

MELBOURNE (Reuters)—Nearly 5,000 shipyard workers went on strike Monday in Australia's two main naval dockyards over demands for higher wage margins. At Garden Island yard, Sydney, 4,000 men walked out, while 800 struck later at the Williamstown yard in Victoria.

Royal Name Displeases Montrealers

OTTAWA (CP) — A petition signed by 200,000 persons Monday was presented to the government in the Commons, asking that the name Queen Elizabeth for a new CNR hotel under construction in Montreal be changed to Chateau Maisonneuve.

The petition, accompanied by a four-foot pile of 16 volumes, was tabled in the Commons by J. P. Deschatelets (L — Montreal Maisonneuve-Rosemount) on behalf of the Legue d'Action Nationale.

The petition asked that the hotel be named Chateau Maisonneuve after the founder of the city of Montreal, Paul de Chomedy de Maisonneuve.

Heading the list of names are the signatures of Mayors Jean Drapeau of Montreal and Edward Wilson of Verdun, Que., a municipality on the island of Montreal.

$5,000,000 Plan Set For Missionary Work

TORONTO (CP) — A $5,000,000 campaign for missionary work will be started by the United Church of Canada Sept. 25, it was announced Monday. Dr. H. E. D. Ashford, new director of the missionary and maintenance department of the church, made the announcement soon after taking over his new position.

Very Special Powers

ONE year and a month from now the Defence Production Act would have expired, as an emergency piece of war-time legislation carried over into the post-war era. The sustained effort of the federal government to have these extraordinary powers perpetuated has raised the hottest debate in the present session of Parliament; an argument which, though carried for the most part by the Progressive Conservatives, left visible uneasiness on the part of a much larger proportion of the House. The issue grew warmer and warmer, until yesterday when Prime Minister St. Laurent in effect toned down Defence Minister Howe's point-blank ultimatum, and agreed that the measure could be reviewed by Parliament in three years' time.

That concession is a limited one. Under the Defence Production Act, the Provinces' authority under the British North America Act as to property and civil rights stands in part suspended. Under it Parliament itself is deprived of its normal means of control of public expenditures relating to defence outlays. An emergency measure conceived in emergent times, the law also deprives the cabinet of its own voice in the affairs of government in the same restricted connection. In addition, the Defence Production Act sets up penalties which have no counterpart in any other branch of Canadian jurisprudence. Finally, because it invades the BNA Act, there remains doubt as to whether the law is within the competence of Parliament.

Subject to whatever may be the final stage of the measure's intended enactment, a three-year extension of the Defence Production Act unchanged would continue for three years all of these anomalies. For that precise period the government must follow Mr. Howe; Parliament suffer from a delegation of its own express authority; and the ten Provinces be deprived of an important part of their rights under the Canadian constitution. Solidly entrenched at Ottawa, the Liberals may not feel alarmed at the working out of that. Yet even the appearance of dictation to Parliament must be repugnant within the terms of the Canadian constitution. What kind of a Parliament is it that agrees to relegate itself to the bleachers? The Defence Production Act does that.

With the government's desire to have some special authority to proceed with orderly defence preparations in a restless world there can be reasonable sympathy. But why was it necessary to employ an explosive, undemocratic remedy? The Defence Production Act, which for three years yet will be a legal instrument in Canada, could not have been fitted into the BNA Act with a shoehorn, and has no real place in the body of Canadian law that could not have been filled by other and more responsive means.

Safety in Small Boats

PART of the responsibility of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, comparatively recently acquired, is administration of the safety regulations of the Canada Shipping Act. Though many owners may be unaware of it, these regulations extend not merely to commercial shipping but also to pleasure craft large or small which use navigable waterways. The owner of an outboard runabout might be astonished to know the number of regulations which possession and use of his boat bring him under.

It is as much for the owners' own good as for safety on the water in general that the rules have been devised. From some of the risks taken in small boats around these shores and the examples of discourtesy that are all too common, it is obvious that the regulations are not nearly as widely understood and respected as they should be. For all their attractive appearance these are treacherous waters, rock strewn, tide ripped and subject to sudden changes in weather and wind conditions.

Understanding of the hazards comes with experience, but the small boat fleet in this vicinity is growing at a remarkable rate, and experience is not a noticeable attribute among many of the new owners. Trips are undertaken across wide stretches of open water in boats ill found for offshore duty and without a single item of safety equipment—not even so much as oars or paddles in case of motor failure, an anchor, or a flashlight with which to signal for help if unable to get back to land before dark. Probably not one small boat in ten complies with the rudimentary requirements. The sublime confidence placed in luck and the dependability of a puny gasoline motor is the distinguishing mark of the inexperienced.

Without harassing those who use boats for pleasure, the RCMP is now being more vigilant in enforcing the rules. To assist the police in this education campaign it might be a good idea for the department of transport to compile a simply-worded digest of the regulations as they apply to privately owned craft and supply copies to all boathouses, clubs and places where pleasure craft are kept. Copies also could be handed out along with the seasonal cruising permits which all boat-owners are required to obtain—though few do.

One, Yes — But One Only

THE movement to have charity drives put into one basket is gaining momentum. Representations will be made for example to the provincial government to secure assent to a payroll deduction scheme for civil service employees, in this instance on behalf of the Community Chest, the Red Cross and the Salvation Army. The hope is that a similar scheme may be adopted by other major employers here, thus leading to the goal of a united appeal for all charitable agencies.

This is the nub of the whole proposition. Most people probably would subscribe wholeheartedly to the idea of a single appeal that embraced all charities. It is the continual begging by different groups that gets them down and creates the resistance that is becoming so marked. Were they assured that one campaign would be held yearly, and one only, it is likely the response would be generous, even if only on the basis of relief from perpetual canvassing. It will be no good fashioning a united appeal, however, if in addition there are still to be other door-to-door drives. A unified payroll deduction scheme must have some guarantee of this kind else it will fail of success.

Payroll deduction is by far the easiest method of collection for any purpose. The trend nowadays is to load payrolls with too many deductions simply on this account, accompanied perhaps in some cases with an undesirable tinge of pressure, but in connection with the local charitable drive situation this method can be endorsed if in fact it puts an end to the many separate fund-raising campaigns. Individuals could budget in advance for an over-all deduction and probably would be glad to do so, thus ridding themselves at one stroke of the multitude of importunities that beset them. People are simply fed up with being badgered continually for money, and it is time that all agencies which tap their purses realized this.

The Issue of Red China

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

THE United States expects the Soviet Union to bring up the issue of Red China at the Geneva Big Four conference. The Chinese case is a cause of world tension but it seems doubtful anything will come of the Soviet move at this time.

Some Americans, however, are wondering just what Peiping must do to remove the tag of "aggressor" pinned on it by the United Nations in 1951.

The essence of the problem is for the Communist Chinese to prove they are not a war-minded people.

What constitutes proof?

* * *

Proof of a change of heart might be demonstrated by several actions, such as:

1. Immediate release of the 11 American airmen held as spies.

2. Quick release and repatriation of other American and UN prisoners of war known to be in Red Chinese camps.

3. Withdrawal of Red Chinese forces and equipment from North Korea so the Koreans may settle their problems without outside hindrance, in a peaceful manner under UN supervision.

4. Care of starving thousands in China instead of putting so much effort and supplies into building and maintaining a huge war machine.

5. An ending of subversive and infiltration tactics in Indo-China and Southeast Asia.

* * *

As far as is known, these ideas are not yet receiving official sanction. They are just points being made to show the enormity of the task of working out any settlement of the Chinese problem.

There has been a shift in the tactics of Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai since his bitter attack on the United States and the United Nations for even suggesting Peiping go to the UN Security Council for talks on a formal cease-fire in the Formosa strait.

A cease-fire has in fact appeared in the critical area. But no one knows when or if Chou will start the Red forces moving again.

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

ONE shouldn't dare muse in summer about football (soccer), the season belonging to other sports and some of my readers not liking such diversions in any case, but I just saw a friend off to Britain and he can't wait until he sees Newcastle in action and before he decamped he gave me a magazine on the subject and I haven't breathed the word soccer for many a long day and some of my fans say I've neglected them and it will be easy just cribbing from this journal and so, begging your pardon, let's start by talking about goalkeepers.

There are goalkeepers in hockey and lacrosse as I needn't tell you and so you know the chaps I mean, fellows who stand on guard between posts or pipes. The thin red lines in single order, the rocks of Gibraltar in isolated majesty, the last-ditch blokes of incomprehensible fortitude.

Not for all the tea in China, although I never did drink China tea in any case, would I ever have been a goalkeeper, although in youthful times when two bundles of clothes substituted for goalposts, in the beginning at least before I asserted my authority, I was sometimes tabbed for this hazardous and unwelcome role. The goalie was a pressed man. Anyone at all stood apprehensively in the breach and only the peculiar individual ever chose the job of his own free will. I have heard it said, an absolute libel of course, that all good goalkeepers are crazy, and true enough this choice of position lends credence to such a view. Let's be charitable however and say they are born, not made.

* * *

Much to my astonishment I find that in the neophyte days of organized soccer, according to this magazine which by the way is edited by Charlie Buchan and which means that the Victoria soccer fans who happen to come from Sunderland should prick up their ears and take notice, the goalkeeper was a sort of lame duck.

Seemingly Sheffield coined the term goalkeeper, which should please or depress my readers from that area according to their mood, but not until some time afterwards, in 1870 to be meticulous about it, was he a particular person. Before that the custodian if so he can be called, the goal being empty, was any defender who happened close to the goal line just about the moment the ball was ready to cross it. He, I need not emphasize, immediately prevented any such dire calamity, presumably with his feet and not his hands.

I am not getting very far with this subject, I can see, and the magazine is so full of interesting lore I shouldn't be so wordy. I almost got sidetracked by telling you that Stanley Matthews, whom you remember at Royal Athletic Park and who probably wouldn't be seen dead between the goalposts, unless he were walking the ball into the net, taught himself the art of dipsy dribbling by practising in his home, manipulating a rubber ball between kitchen chairs, and once when he had a poisoned toe he wrapped a tea-cosy round it so he could keep on. He must have had an accommodating mother, don't you think?

But I'm wandering dreadfully and I did so want to cite a list of famous Old Country goalkeepers the magazine mentions so you fellows who read this with pleasure, all three or four of you, could have a nice little argument as to who is best among them. There is, or was, such stalwarts as Dawson of Burnley, Sam Hardy of Aston Villa, Hibbs of Birmingham, Elisha Scott of Liverpool, James Brownlee of Third Lanark, Doig of Sunderland and Jerry Dawson of Glasgow Rangers, not to speak of Peter McBride of Preston and L. R. Roose of Everton and Sunderland and Aberystwyth, and a whole lot more. And now alas my space is all filled up, but thanks nevertheless to the Newcastle friend who left me the legacy.

Reports from Ottawa

THE Conservative filibuster of the defence production bill is proving something that scarcely needed proving: that a politician needs a tough hide.

In one afternoon last week Production Minister Howe was called stubborn, was said to be suffering from a psychological block, was accused of being anti-Parliament and of being indifferent to what happens to the taxpayers' money.

He was charged with whipping up bogeys to frighten the Commons, with talking irrelevancies and drawing red herrings across trails, and with setting the stage for a dictatorship and/or socialism.

That doesn't exhaust the invective; merely captures its essence. Yet Howe kept his temper. Not only kept it, but was in good humor—rather surprising in view of both the provocation and his ingrained impatience with Parliament's meandering verbosity. And he stuck to his guns in his rebuttal, despite the fact that the only support he has got from the cabinet has been that no cabinet minister has spoken against his bill.

* * *

The next step is for both the government and the opposition to study the reaction of the country to Howe's explanation of why he needs defence production powers untrammeled by a five-year limit. Howe made a strong case for continuation of the powers at this time, but he was less convincing when he argued that no date for the expiry of the legislation should be written into the act.

The Tories have made much of the failure of Howe's cabinet colleagues to speak in his support—a development which lends credence to reports from within the cabinet that other ministers would like to compromise with the Tories.

On the other hand, the Conservatives' insistence that a statutory cut-off on Howe's wide powers over industry is vital for the protection of democracy isn't convincing. If there were no time limit on the powers—and it seems pretty certain there won't be any opposition MP could bring in a bill to repeal the act when the opposition considered these extraordinary powers were no longer needed by the government. If the government defeated the bill, the opposition could appeal to the voters at the next election to turn the rascals out.

* * *

More than a dozen Tories, about one-quarter of the Conservative MPs, have acted as though glued to their seats during the party's struggle to save democracy, as their leader has described this filibuster.

Maj. Gen. G. R. Pearkes, the party's military critic, is the most notable of them. He simply disagrees with the course his colleagues are following. He has been urging stronger defences, and believes the government needs the powers under the Defence Production Act, although he doesn't believe the nation would suffer from a time limit on them. Some of the other silent Tories slough off questions with "Oh, they don't need me in there very badly" or "Anything I could say has already been said."

But then, you'd need a stick of dynamite to get some of them onto their feet. Robert H. McGregor of York East, for example. He's been an MP continuously since 1926, having been re-elected six times. Yet it would be a major research job to find the last speech he made in the House. Certainly he hasn't spoken for years.

I caught him coming out of the chamber the other day after a hectic filibuster sitting. He looked disgusted. "They're acting like a lot of blanket-blank school kids," he said.

The Innocent Man

(From the New York Herald Tribune)

THE conscience of the State of New York as embodied in its Court of Claims, has fixed $112,291 as compensation to Louis Hoffner for 42 years' false imprisonment.

Of course this is only a token; Judge Frederick A. Young correctly observes that "all the wealth" of the state could not pay Mr. Hoffner for the anguish suffered since the erroneous conviction and lifetime sentence in 1941 for a murder committed by somebody else.

What we particularly like is Judge Young's abrupt rejection of any idea that apology for this indignity was more compensatory than money. He said that "an apology accompanied by a token payment would add a high-handed insult to an inconceivable injury."

The truth is that there can be no adequate recompense for such a claim. Any compensation is at best only a symbol, but it should serve "as well as the medium allows". The present award is concrete expression of regret for a shameful mistake, and Mr. Hoffner can also feel proud and happy over this final mark of vindication.

We suppose that judges, juries and prosecutors will always remain less than perfect, but let us hope that the Hoffner case has impressed a lot of citizens with the fallibility of law. It is well to reflect on the quality of co-called proof in criminal trials.

The defendant, after all, is not supposed to bear the burden of proving himself innocent. Yet this is what Mr. Hoffner had to do while the State of New York held him prisoner a dozen years. Apparently it is easy enough to put an innocent man behind bars, but getting him out is another story.

The moral is that we cannot be too strict in observing the traditional safeguards. Our freedom rests upon justice to every individual, under a system of laws which holds each man innocent until proved guilty.

At a musical at the British embassy, an Englishman brought along his eight-year-old son, a lad who's been living in Washington for the last three years. Nothing untoward happened until the finale when the musicians struck up "God Save the Queen." At the first note, the young Englishman started singing, not the British words but a loud penetrating "My Country 'Tis of Thee!" He continued, letter perfect, right to the end. As the music stopped, a shocked British drawl pierced the sudden silence:

"My word! The boy's been brain-washed!"

The Packsack

By GREGORY CLARK

CONFIDENTIALLY, the only really nasty thing about being 60 years old isn't that you can't go upstairs two at a time or carry your end of a canoe. It doesn't irk you too much not to be able to sprint after a bus. In cases like that, when you're 60, you take the position that it is not dignified. You don't admit that if you did sprint or did go upstairs two at a time or attempted to tussle with your end of the canoe, you would feel as if a gasket were going to blow in you.

By the time you are 60, you have worked out a whole system of attitudes, beliefs and self-deceptions that make life pretty tolerable. Pretty tolerable.

And then, it happens. The nasty thing. You are walking along, let us say, in the busy noon hour throng of the downtown district. The sky is summer blue. The air is zesty. The shop windows are bright. The pretty office girls are jiggling by in their light frocks, the young men are striding along with their noon-hour vigor, traffic is noisy and lusty, and the whole world hums with life. And by golly, there you are in the middle of it, strutting along with pleasant impressions of the bright world around you, and of your well-being too.

And there, coming towards you, not twenty paces off, is an old withered boll weevil of a guy. He is shrunken. His neck looks thin coming up out of the collar of his modest sports shirt. His feet shamble. He wears his chin up in a rather pathetic effect of jauntiness. But his face is shapen by the years, sunk here, pouched there, sinewy, corded.

There is something instantly familiar about him. And before he has come five paces nearer, you recognize him as an old school chum.

"Hi!" you greet him with false warmth.

"Hi! How's everything?" he greets you, with equally false warmth.

You know his heart has sunk as low, at the sight of you, as yours has sunk at the sight of him.

That is the heck of being 60: you are always running into somebody your own age. It is worse, far worse, than looking in a mirror.

Spreaders of Falsehood

(From The Milwaukee Journal)

FOR four years Platteville residents have had the advantages of fluoridation. The other day they went to the polls and threw it out by 799 to 730.

Why? Because as usual a couple of chiropractors and a so-called "citizens' committee" armed with fantastic, untruthful stories convinced the community that fluoridation was dangerous.

The success these people have with their falsehood and prejudices makes one wonder why the scamps who make a living selling the Brooklyn bridge, operating the "pigeon drop" confidence game or getting people to bite on the old Spanish prisoner racket don't become millionaires almost overnight.

Fluoridation has been tested backward and forward over the country. Every leading health organization, every real expert, every test that has ever been made supports the fact that in proper quantities fluorides are harmless and reduce tooth decay in children.

Yet crackpots and frauds always with a few misguided but sincere individuals manage to convince thousands of individuals that fluoridation is dangerous. They call it everything from a Russian Communist plot to "rat poison".

And many people believe these modern counterparts of those who used to say tomatoes were poisonous, night air gave you malaria, sleeping in the moonlight made you insane and eating powered wolf liver made you brave.

In a recent six-month period 25 communities held referendums on fluoridation and only seven approved it. Of the 18 that rejected it five communities already had it in operation. In each of these instances the opponents spread their fantastic propaganda. And pro-fluoridation forces—many of whom can't believe that the public could fall for modern witchcraft—do little or nothing. As a result fluoridation has been getting whipped.

It's a medical and intellectual crime. Surely Americans aren't as stupid as the fluoridation referendums make them appear! What is needed is an active, factual widespread campaign by legitimate medical, dental and health organizations to show the benefits of fluoridation.

Votes in Milwaukee and several other communities have proved that where the truth is spread widely enough the spreaders of falsehood can be beaten and the community can adopt sound health measures.

Speed Limits

Lord Goddard, the Lord Chief Justice, has put forward the proposal in the Upper House, that "the offence of speeding should be abolished and the police should be authorized to prosecute only for dangerous driving."

He added: "I am not inclined to be lenient with people who drive at excessive speeds in built-up areas but no offence on the statute book is so unequally enforced as the speed limit." Lord Goddard then asks "what would happen if a motorist fined for speeding then took out a summons against the police officer for exceeding the speed limit?" What would be the police officer's answer? I do not think he would have any," his lordship added.

"I would have thought it better," he said, "if the offence of speeding was done away with and it was left to the police to prosecute for dangerous driving if the motorist was driving in a dangerous manner."

The high court had held that speed alone could be enough to convict a motorist of dangerous driving; for xample, in a busy street it could constitute "dangerous driving" to proceed carelessly at a speed less than the limit of 30 mph but, on the other hand, it might be perfectly safe to drive at 60 mph on an open, clear road where the limit is, in fact, 50 mph.

It seems that the slow-poke and legal-limit drivers contribute to accidents on the wide open road, with not a soul in sight ahead but with a snake of cars behind. If the drivers of B.C. agree with Lord Goddard they have only to make their wishes known to the government in no uncertain manner and the present law of inflexible speed limits will have to be changed.

It is a happy thought that in a democracy, the government is the servant of the people and can be made to do anything the people desire. If not you throw them out and put in a government that will.

The Flag Question

If Mrs. Marshall and any other anti-British-flag agitators would notice the front page of a recent issue of the Colonist they would see a demonstration by that patriotic organization, the Daughters of the Empire. The only flag displayed is the Union Jack.

The Empress Hotel, belonging to the greatest commercial body in Canada, flies no other flag; neither does the YMCA, representative of Canadian youth. Our newest province, Newfoundland, has stated that the Union Jack and no other flag will be its emblem.

Without opening another discussion, I would like to know how much better off Southern Ireland is under her own flag. Unemployment has increased; so has the cost of living. In case of invasion by a foreign power, the country would have to depend on Britain for defence.

J. LOWTHER.

Britain's Part

I would like to remind the lady who has a chip on her shoulder that the country she abuses is still giving lives and money to keep her freedom; that Britain became bankrupt, and was helped by her "hated" Crown colonies, the United States and Canadian patriots with terrible cost of human life and labor, to enable her to freely express her thoughts in public.

The better part of Ireland also did her share; the lower part preferred to hide behind her skirts and prosper. History tells how Britain helped her colonies, at a cost of over £2,000,000,000 in gold, to learn how to govern themselves.

If the lady wants a flag so much, I suggest that she nail her garments to a pole in her garden and salute them every day; her neighbors will love it.

With goodwill to all, and undying thanks and loyalty to Britain and our beloved Queen.

J. G. LOWOOD.

Duncan, B.C.

Mercy and Man

Re Mr. C. S. Edglington's letter of July 1: Christ calls to mind that His kingdom is not of this world and we can only infer that it is a merciful kingdom.

Thus it is the Christian world is prepared to be merciful towards the crimes of humanity on the one hand while accepting the verdict of the gallows on the other, for he who would hang, hangs in the public mind even as the act itself makes manifest. In this manner the gallows reflects equally on all and no man finds forgiveness in this.

Crime is a blot on the world. The screen is white but we darken it with the sins of humanity and then attempt salvation with added punishment!

Rehabilitation knows no bounds excepting those of enlightenment. Where is the Light of the world if not within the human mind and heart?

Human justice sits in blind majesty to confront good and evil, two wings of the same body—humanity. How can we separate them when both fit into the one whole? Christ recognizes this when He says, "Resist not evil, overcome it with good."

Are not good and evil therefore judged on the same altar? And if evil is the other side of good, can we take a pound of flesh from the one without drawing blood from the other?

Mercy is made for man!

Ferry Has Teething Troubles But Problem Child Taunt Denied

The new coastal steamer Princess of Vancouver will be in good working order in "a month or so," CPR officials said yesterday in answer to claims that the $4,000,000 vessels is "a problem child mechanically."

The 416-foot, 7,000-ton steamer ran onto a sandbar in Nanaimo harbor a week ago, shortly after entering Nanaimo-Vancouver service—but officials said engine trouble was not the cause of the accident.

Princess of Vancouver sailed out from Glasgow on three of her four engines after cotton waste choked one engine. This trouble has been eliminated, but officials said the engines vibrate at a certain speed.

To protect the engines until a new part is flown from Glasgow, the ship has reduced cruising speed and cut down her daily trips from three to two.

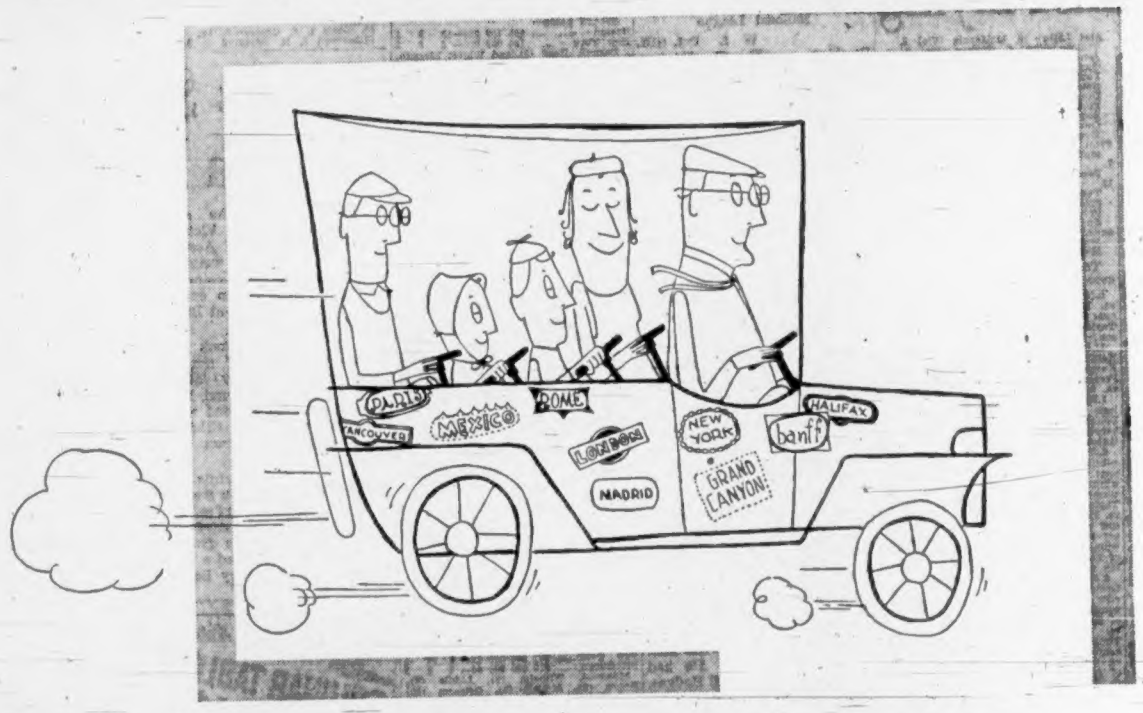
NEW RESEARCH DISCOVERY BY IMPERIAL OIL MEANS EXTRA MILEAGE FOR CANADIAN DRIVERS



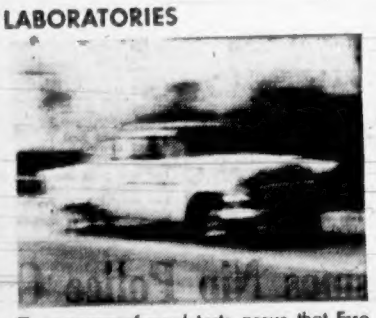
Improved Esso gasolines and new Marvelube motor oil used together give these results:

1. MORE MILEAGE
2. IMPROVED GETAWAY
3. LESS ENGINE DEPOSITS

HERE'S PROOF FROM IMPERIAL OIL'S RESEARCH LABORATORIES

Laboratory tests show that improved Esso gasolines burn cleaner—leaving less engine deposits that rob cars of power.

This research also revealed that when new Marvelube is used with Esso gasolines there is an even greater reduction in deposits.



Three years of road tests prove that Esso gasolines and Marvelube used together result in faster getaway and more mileage.

Drive in today—prove to yourself the better performance you can get.

Annual Summer Bonspiel Opens at Victoria Curling Club

Victoria's second annual summer curling bonspiel was officially opened yesterday morning when Mayor Claude Harrison sent the first rock sliding down the Victoria Curling club ice. Mayor Harrison, sporting a cap with the host club's green and gold colors, is shown during the delivery that started 50 rinks on their way in the quest for prizes in five events.

One of the most highly regarded of the 15 visiting rinks competing in the Victoria Curling club's second annual summer bonspiel is the one skipped by Campbell Aird, the veteran shot-calling expert from Devon, Alberta. Members of the rink, who advanced into the 32s of "A" event by winning their first game yesterday are, left to right, Bill Erickson, Russ Davidson, Len Paoychny and Aird.

Summer 'Spiel Starts With 50 Rinks Playing

Play started yesterday in the second annual bonspiel at the Victoria Curling Club with 50 of the 51 rinks entered showing for their first games. Only the RCN rink entered by Jim McTavish was unable to put in an appearance.

At press time last night, five draws had been played and a sixth draw, which will bring the "A" primary completely out to the 16s was in progress. Twelve rinks were in the 16s at the end of five draws.

Undefeated winners of two games were rinks skipped by Jack Moir, Charlie Hodgson, Stan James, Frank Peturrson and Jim Tang, all of Victoria.

Hodgson, former British Consols finalist from Chilliwack, had the hardest battle to advance twice. Two down coming home against Glen Walkey of Victoria in his first game, he tied it on the 10th end and won it on the 11th. He also had to play an extra end to defeat the Norm Philp rink from Glentworth, Saskatchewan, which is being skipped by Gordie Robertson of Victoria.

Among the highly-rated rinks knocked out of the "A" primary were those skipped by Larry Marshall of Duncan, Fred Tinling of Vancouver and Kirby Moysey, Frank Garraway and Gar Taylor of Victoria.

Today's play will be confined to the second primary, which will also be brought out to the 16s by the end of tonight's last draw. Play in the secondary events will start tomorrow morning.

Each of the competing rinks is automatically entered in the two primary events and losers of either first or second games will drop down into the corresponding secondary events. The semi-finalists in all four events will enter a special event, the grand challenge. In the event that one or more rinks should reach the semi-finals in two events, the grand challenge, which will comprise 16 rinks, will be filled by rinks which failed to reach a semi-final. They will advance on a percentage basis of games won and lost.

It was the Fourth of July yesterday and, appropriately enough, there was plenty of fireworks in major league baseball parks.

Seventeen holiday games were played and only four pitchers went the distance as opposing managers used up a total of 82 hurlers in an attempt to stop the hitters, who whacked out 34 home runs. The run-making, however, was not in any relationship to the number of pitchers used as many games were low-scoring affairs.

Two of the complete pitching jobs were turned in by members of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who turned on the Philadelphia Phils twice after losing three out of four games to last-place Pittsburgh over the week-end.

SNIDER HITS TWO

Amazing Don Newcombe pitched shutout baseball after the first inning to beat the Phils, 8-2, and record his 14th win in 15 decisions. He had home run help from Gil Hodges, Carl Furillo and Duke Snider, who hit his 26th and 27th circuit smashes and batted in six runs.

Then Clem Labine, for the first time in 24 starts since 1951, pitched a full game to win, 6-3, after giving up three runs in the first inning. Labine and Furillo hit Brooklyn home runs in this one.

The double win lengthened Brooklyn's lead to 12½ games over Chicago Cubs and to 14½ and 18 over Milwaukee Braves and the defending champion New York Giants, respectively.

The Cubs split with the rising Cincinnati Redlegs while Milwaukee's pennant chances suffered a body blow when St. Louis Cardinals took both ends of the twin bill.

GIANTS, BUCS SPLIT

Still struggling, the Giants lost the first game to the Pirates and had to go 11 innings before winning the second on Willie Mays' circuit smash. Rookie Lind Donoso won the first game for the Pirates and lost the second.

In the American League, the New York Yankees were set back on their heels by the sizzling Boston Red Sox, who moved within eight games of the lead with 4-2 and 10-5 victories.

Cleveland Indians, who may be straightened out at last, moved into second place by besting the slipping Detroit Tigers twice, 6-5 and 8-5. The first game went 15 innings and the Indians had to score three runs in the last two innings to force extra innings. They overcame a 5-1 lead to win the second.

Anglers Start Slowly In Sixth Derby Week

Anglers started the sixth week of the annual Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association ladder derby by weighing in only three salmon yesterday, two at the Goldstream end of Saanich Inlet and one at Brentwood.

R. H. Lapp, who took temporary possession of the top rung on the weekly ladder, weighed in a seven-pound, four-ounce fish at Brentwood while Jim Leggett and H. J. Erickson came in at Goldstream with slightly smaller fish.

Ladder derby hopefuls finished up the fifth week Sunday by entering a total of 12 salmon with a pair of button-sized fish highlighting the day's fishing.

G. B. Williams hauled a 22½-pounder out of Misery Bay to take over second place among the 50 qualifiers for the main fish-off and S. W. Anderson hauled in a 20.03-pound spring for fifth place in the battle for weekly prizes.

Dr. H G Carson won the top weekly prize with the 23.9-pounder he boated earlier in the week. Other prize winners, in order, were: Williams, C. Grant, Don Gunn and Anderson.

Mac Feingold won the weekly hidden-weight prize with a salmon weighing six pounds, 14 ounces.

Fishermen who have qualified for the main fish-off may pick up their fish-off tickets at Wilson & Lenfesty sporting goods store, starting at noon today.

Junior Shamrocks Lose Overtime Struggle, 13-12

NEW WESTMINSTER—Victoria's junior Shamrocks, blowing a 9-6 lead in the final five minutes, suffered a 13-12 overtime setback at the hands of New Westminster Salmonbellies here last night in an Inter-City Junior Lacrosse League contest.

Behind only once until the overtime session, the Shamrocks held a 3-1 lead after the first quarter and were ahead 4-3 at half-time. It was 4-4 going into the final quarter when 10 goals were scored and the winners whipped in three quick goals to force overtime.

Salmonbellies scored the first four goals of the overtime period, three of them coming with Victoria's Fred Doig in the penalty box, but the Shamrocks fought back and Ed Longpre brought Victoria to within one goal with a minute remaining.

Ed Kowalyk, who topped the losers with four goals, broke away twice in the final 30 seconds but was stopped both times in his bid to score the tying goal.

BOXLA LINEUPS LISTED

Line-ups for an exhibition peewee division all-star game between Saanich and Greens at Memorial Arena Wednesday night at 7 p.m. follows:

BY IAN GLENDAY

Victoria Shamrocks snapped a three-game losing streak and held first place in the Inter-City Lacrosse League last night at Memorial Arena but their big test—perhaps the biggest of the season—will come Wednesday when the revitalized Nanaimo Timbermen visit the arena.

Led by the three-goal efforts of Lew Landess, Pee Wee Bradshaw and Larry Booth, the Irish broke out of the lethargy that has marked their play in recent games and pulled away in the second half to pin a 15-8 defeat on the third-place Vancouver Pilseners.

SIXTH STRAIGHT

But at the same time, the Timbermen, who have finally broken loose after dropping to fourth place earlier in the season, chalked up their sixth straight triumph by downing Mount Pleasant Indians for the fifth time in a row, 11-8, at Vancouver.

That set the stage for Wednesday night's crucial battle with first place at stake. The Shamrocks held their one-point edge over the Timbermen, who pulled four points in front of the Pilseners, but Nanaimo still has a game in hand.

It was a pleasing performance that the Shamrocks turned in last night before one of the season's poorer crowds of about 2,700. Although there was some fine individual work, the Rocks' victory was fashioned by outstanding team play with each player doing his bit and doing it well.

FERGY IN ACTION

And, to add a bit extra to the satisfying evening, veteran Arnie Ferguson, who announced his retirement at the end of last season but was lured back into action and signed with the club Sunday, saw his first duty at a defence position.

The cagy Ferguson, who seems to defy time, showed he has lost little of the ability that has stamped him as one of Canada's top gutted-stick artists. He scored on his first shot, a typical side-wheeling bullet drive to the corner, picked up two assists and proved tough to beat on loose balls.

The Shamrocks worked the ball well and used their speed to good advantage in gradually wearing down the short-handed Pilseners, who were playing without Harry Buchanan, the league's top scorer, Ed Hamson and Sam Sakich.

TOOK QUICK LEAD

Opening fast, the Shamrocks raced to a 3-1 lead and held a 4-2 edge at the end of the first quarter. Pilseners put up their strongest argument in the action-filled second session and took advantage of two Victoria penalties to tie the count at 4-4 at 4.23.

Whitey Severson and young Barry Pfaff of Pils exchanged goals before the Shamrocks went ahead to stay, Booth connecting on a play with Jack Thompson and Al Davies finding the mark on a bounce shot with only one second remaining in the second quarter.

Sterling goaltending by Ken Johnston, who blocked several sizzlers, good protection, Shamrocks went to work in the second half and rattled in five goals in the third quarter as Pilseners appeared a bit disorganized.

ALL THEY NEEDED

That was all the Shamrocks needed as they carried a 12-7 lead into the final quarter and continued their victory march by outscoring the visitors 3-1.

Booth, who scored two of his goals on the Shamrock's power play, also collected a pair of assists while Severson connected for two goals. Bob Marsh turned in a strong effort for Pils and topped them with three goals.

At Vancouver, Nanaimo moved into a 3-0 lead in the opening period but Indians whittled away to chop the margin to 5-4 at half-time. Led by Jim McNulty, who fired three goals, the Timbermen whipped in four goals in the third period and coasted from there.

TWO PLAYERS RELEASED

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore Orioles Monday gave a pair of veterans their unconditional release and signed up two more youthful baseball players.

General manager Paul Richards released hurler Saul Rogovin and outfielder Wally Westlake, obtained from Cleveland only recently in the controversial deal which brought about the retirement of Billy Cox.

Cosmopolitans finished up their first-half Pony League baseball schedule with a victory last night, edging Oak Bay Police 9-8 at Carnarvon park in a game postponed from June 26.

Oak Bay, trailing 9-3 going into the final inning, staged a five-run rally that just fell short of knotting the count.

Second-place UCT will meet fifth-place Optimists in a sudden-death game in the opener of the Babe Ruth League first-half playoffs tonight at Beacon Hill park at 6.30, league officials announced last night.

Eagles and Tillicums, third and fourth-place finishers, respectively, play another sudden-death contest Wednesday, and first-place McCall-Davey tangles with Menzies Fuel in the first game of a best-of-three series on Thursday.

Unknown O.C. Pro Rocks St. Andrews; 63 Smashes Record

By STERLING SLAPPEY

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—A stocky little Yorkshireman who never has won a tournament of importance topped a stream of record - shattering performances Monday in British Open qualifying rounds when he shot the finest golf ever seen in St. Andrews.

For more than 500 years, golfers have been hacking away among the dunes and gorse by the side of St. Andrews bay, but never before has any score been reported in competitive play like the 63 shot by Frank Jowle.

The 43 year - old professional played the par-71, 6,526-yard New Course which is about a stroke or 1½ strokes easier than the more famous Old Course.

His superb round put him four strokes ahead of the field of 270 golfers with one qualifying round still to be played today. The tournament proper starts Wednesday.

Jowle broke a record set a short time before by Joe Carr of Ireland who fired a 67 on the New Course. Carr's mark still stands as an amateur record although it was matched later by Joe Conrad of San Antonio, Tex., who won the British amateur championship last month.

Modern golf caught St. Andrews in an easy mood Monday. A warm sun shone and only light breezes fanned the old playing area after a night of violent winds and rain.

Of importance almost equal to Jowle's 63 was the 67 shot by Laurie Ayton, a Scot, on the par 36-35—72 old course.

A total of 19 men broke 70 on this perfect playing day. Here is the way the amazing scores came in:

63—Jowle.

65—Charlie Ward, England (he came in too late to claim a record).

67 — Ayton, Conrad, Carr, and England's Harry Weetman, George Howard and Peter Allis.

68—Carlos Celles Potente, Spain, England's John Jacobs and Scotland's Eric Brown and Melville Bucher.

69—England's Walter Lees, Bob Kenyon, M. Robertson, and Eric Lester, the defending champion from Australia, Peter Thomson. American veteran Byron Nelson and Flory Van Donck, Belgium.

INVADERS CARD 70s

Jimmy McHale, an amateur from Philadelphia, had a great 70 on the Old Course. American senior champion, Mortie Dutra of Los Angeles, posted a 70 on the New Course. George Fazio, little Philadelphia pro, duplicated that score. Lame-armed Ed Furgol of Clayton, Mo., 1954 U. S. Open champ, had a par 71 on the New Course.

All the low shooters except Ayton, Thomson, Brown and McHale were on the simpler New Course.

Jowle's score was not only the lowest ever shot at St. Andrews, it was the lowest in the history of the 95-year-old British Open.

On the outgoing nine Jowle birdied four holes and had an eagle three on the par-five third. His nine-hole total was a six-under-par 30. Coming home he had two birdies and had a two-under-par 33.

Transplanting Fish

These fish are among thousands which are finding themselves without a home as the St. Lawrence power and seaway project starts to take shape near Cornwall, Ont. Thomas Esford, left, and Art Green are trapping and sorting fish as a section of the St. Lawrence river is dredged and emptied. They are shipping coarse fish such as channel catfish, eels and carp to various cities for consumption while game fish like pickerel, bass and muskelonge are being moved downstream.

Youthful Vancouver Trap-Shooter Captures Top Provincial Honors at Victoria Gun Club

Frank Opsal of Vancouver, shooting steadily in the rain at Victoria Gun Club Sunday, won the all-round title in the annual British Columbia trap shooting championships.

Opsal, defending singles champion and owner of the highest average in provincial trap shoots last year, also carried off three other championships.

LEARNED FAST

The 27-year-old trigger expert, who has been shooting competitively for only five years, captured the "A" class singles crown, the "C" class doubles and the handicap title during the three-day meet at the host clubs Albert Head road layout.

Opsal succeeded Vancouver's Russ Young, who retained his doubles title Saturday, as all-round trap-shooting king when he finished the four championship events with a total of 366 of a possible 400.

On Saturday Opsal won the "C" class doubles by cracking 83 out of 100 targets and he connected on 93 of his 100 shots in the handicap singles event Sunday.

In the class "A" singles, the new all-round champion was deadlocked with Victoria's Jack Roach as each finished with 190 in the 200-bird event. Opsal won the singles title as he missed only twice in the 25-target shootoff with the Victoria veteran.

Harold Sigalet of the Vernon Gun Club, competing in "B" class, blasted 94 of 100 targets in the rain Sunday to win the B.C. 16-yard singles championship and the Al Hagar with 191x200. Sigalet took the lead Saturday when he posted 97x100 in the first half of the event.

Johnny Green of Courtenay won the "C" class singles trophy with 185x200 and Jack Genier picked up the "D" class singles crown with 177x200.

LADIES' CHAMPION

Beryl Trewhitt of Vancouver retained her women's championship with 94x100 and E. Pottinger, Victoria, took the B.C. junior crown as he broke 83 of 100 targets.

Topping the contestants from outside the province, who were not eligible for title events, was E. Gabrielson of Hoquiam, Wash., who won the visitors' all-round crown with 345 out of a possible 400.

Tacoma's J. Adams scored 193x200 to win the visitors' singles and G. C. Eck, Seattle, took the visitor's doubles competition with 74x100. Another Seattleite, J. Irwin, won the visitors' handicap shoot with 91x100.

During the annual meeting of the B.C. Trap Shooting Association, which was held in conjunction with the meet, J. M. Lamusse, Vancouver, was elected president. L. T. Traer of Lake Cowichan was named vice-president and G. E. Price, Vancouver, was chosen as secretary for the coming year.

Last night's score: Chinese Students 8, United Services 3.

Next game tonight: Victoria City vs Chinese Students, Central Park, 8:45.

Chinese Students regained a third-place tie with Victoria City in the senior "A" men's softball league last night by whipping last-place United Services, 8-3, at Central park.

City had taken over third spot in the standings on Friday night when coach Bud Ross chalked up his fifth win of the season at the expense of the Students.

Students had little trouble with the hapless Servicemen last night after scoring four runs in the bottom of the first inning to take a 4-3 lead. Services had grabbed a brief lead when they opened the game with a three-run outburst, but starter Ellis Achtem and Jim John, who shared the mound duties for the winners, blanked Mel Padgett's crew the rest of the way.

KILBURN TRIPLES

Colin Kilburn tripled in a run and scored on a sacrifice fly in the second frame to make it 6-3 and the students added single tallies in the fourth and fifth innings.

Newcomer Bill Cameron started on the hill for the losers, and was charged with all the runs. Little Ralph McLean turned in a brilliant relief job for Services after coming on for Cameron in the sixth inning with two out. McLean gave up only one hit the rest of the route and struck out eight of the eleven men he faced.

An RCAF cricket team from Winnipeg, boasting several former English players, defeated Alcos of the Victoria and District Cricket Association by 18 runs in an exhibition match at Windsor Park on Sunday.

Gordon Page, captain of the visiting team, was outstanding for the winners as he led the batsmen with 35 runs and took six Alco wickets for 16 runs.

Widower West Wins Feature in Fast Time

Widower West, covering the mile distance in the sparkling time of 2:08.4, won the featured seventh race at Sandown park yesterday evening.

Driving down the outside in the home stretch, Widower West won handily over Kamalkin to pay $9.40 for a $2 win ticket and $5 to place. Kamalkin returned his backers $5 for a place ducat.

Most thrilling race for the customers at the eight-race program, third of a six-day harness racing meeting at the Sidney layout, was the third when three horses flashed under the wire in a photo finish.

Captain Brewer got the nod over Mabel Cisco for the victory with Miss Silver Star inches back in third spot.

Captain Brewer paid $7.90 and $2.90, while Mabel Cisco returned $2.30 to place.

Longest price of the evening was in the eighth race when Judy G. beat out Arle Boy to pay $10.40 and $6.90.

Dolly Madison and Sir Woollen ran one-two in the sixth-to return quinella bettors $30.10.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Level Crossing Accident Takes Father of Two

Widow and Children Receive $10,000 on $5,000 Policy

In Western Canada, a young executive died recently in a level crossing accident. He was insured with a $5,000 Confederation Life Policy carrying an Accidental Death & Dismemberment Benefit. As a result, his widow and children received $10,000 for their care and protection.

The only policy of its kind in Canada!

Confederation's Accidental Death & Dismemberment Benefit on a $5,000 Policy pays:

$5,000 if you die from natural causes.
$10,000 if you die by accident.
$15,000 if you die by accident while a passenger in a commercial bus, streetcar, train or ship, or in a fire in a public place.

Liberal cash payments for dismemberment accidents.

Grain Prices

WINNIPEG (CP)—Grain prices moved narrowly in a dull session. The best commercial interests were in barley and flax.

Exporters were buying barley and there were reports of small sales to the United Kingdom Seaboard houses and processors bought flax and there was a report of a sale of 40,000 bushels to Japan.

Oats trade was mostly domestic and rye trade was local. U.S. interests were limited because of the July 4 holiday.

Overnight export loadings Thursday included 660,000 bushels to the United Kingdom, 365,000 to Japan, 115,000 to Germany, 55,000 to Belgium, and 20,000 to Switzerland.

Newspaper Ads To Be Doubled

LOS ANGELES — Cigaret manufacturer O. Parker McComas, president of Philip Morris, Inc., says his company is shifting much of its advertising from radio and television to newspapers this year and next.

He told newsmen that his firm believes more people read newspapers than listen to radio or watch television.

"Consequently, this year we will more than double our newspaper advertising and I feel certain the results will show our thinking was correct," he said

Nanaimo Voters Inspect Island Before Deciding

NANAIMO—More than 500 Nanaimo residents went to have a look at Newcastle Island Sunday when the Junior Chamber of Commerce arranged for a ferry schedule to the once-popular resort.

Ratepayers will vote Thursday on proposed purchase of the CPR-owned island by the city for $150,000.

The Jaycees arranged the trip to the island so that taxpayers could have a first-hand look at the property.

The island consists of some 700 acres and until the war was used extensively for summer picnics. It was re-opened by the CPR in 1952 but has not been used since that time.

Teenager Fined After Crash

NANAIMO—A 16-year-old boy, found guilty of driving without due care and attention, was fined $25 and costs in juvenile court Monday and had his licence suspended for one year.

The car was involved in a collision with a taxi.

Other teen-agers in the car gave conflicting evidence as to whether the car had stopped or slowed down at the intersection.

Magistrate Lionel Beevor-Potts said he was convinced the car was travelling at an excessive rate. Police evidence stated that the car travelled 285 feet after the collision and struck another car before coming to a stop.

Three Killed on Vancouver Island During Dominion Day Week-End

Three persons died in accidents on Vancouver Island during the long Dominion Day week-end. They included a drowning, a gassing and a logging death.

ANTHONY BROWN
Drowned at Lake Cowichan.

Seven-year-old Anthony Brown, of Youbou, was drowned in Lake Cowichan near his home early Sunday evening. The body was found in the lake four hours after his parents reported the boy missing. Discoverer was Ben Irving, who had been assisting in the search.

Funeral services will be held from Duncan United church Wednesday at 2 p.m., and the boy will be buried in Mountain View cemetery.

There are three other boys in the family, Gerald, six; Lyle, two, and Murray, six months.

An inquiry will be held this week by Coroner J. H. Boyd.

A verdict of accidental death was returned by a coroner's jury inquiring into the death of Martin Tapay, 66, of Nanaimo, who was found dead in his garage Friday night.

A screwdriver with which Mr. Tapay had apparently been working on the car, was on the floor beside the body.

The body was found by J. B. Girard. The motor of the car was not running. Dr. H. C. Welch said death was due to carbon monoxide poisoning.

Mr. Tapay was born in Czechoslovakia and came to Canada in 1907. He was a coal miner, who retired in 1952.

CRUSHED BY TREE

At Campbell River, a coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death yesterday at the close of an inquiry into the death of Andrew Anderson, 62, who was crushed by a falling tree Friday on Thurlow Island.

Evidence showed that the logger, an employee of the Carl Eng Logging Company, was wearing a hard hat. While falling a tree, he was hit by a rotten snag. His skull was fractured.

The logger whose only known relative lives in Sweden will be buried in Campbell River.

AND TWO SAVED

Quick action saved the lives of two boys, one 22 months old and the other seven years, from drowning in two week-end accidents in the Greater Victoria area.

Mrs. Catherine Garrett, 4082 Borden, pulled her son, Lawrence, from a septic tank hole behind her home Saturday night and applied artificial respiration until the Saanich fire inhalator crew arrived.

The boy had fallen into the uncovered hole which was partly filled with water.

The boy remained at Royal Jubilee hospital overnight and returned home Sunday.

Frankie George, 7, Craigflower road was pulled from the water near Craigflower bridge Friday night by Bob Copeman 23, 3024 Jutland, and Dave Martin 22, 1440 Craigflower.

Colwood RCMP said the lad had fallen from the bridge and

Ladysmith Report

Town Has More Water Than It Can Ever Use

LADYSMITH—"The total water available to Ladysmith is more than any rate of consumption that can be envisaged. The problem, of course, is to store this water and direct it to its end use," said A. R. Colby, consulting civil engineer, in a preliminary survey report to city council through waterworks chairman Ald. Allan Carey.

Survey of the supply and distributing system of Ladysmith water district was made at the request of council primarily with a view to correcting low pressure areas in upper levels of the town.

LONG RANGE PLANS

The final report on long range plans will be studied by council. Cost figures have not been released.

Mr. Colby has recommended installation of an eight-inch main from the corner of Methuen street and 4th avenue to the corner of 6th avenue and Boller.

Ladysmith owns the land around Stocking lake and for storage, Holland lake (company dam). Water rights are also held on Holland creek, Davis creek, and the north fork of Banon creek. Included are three main basins: Stocking lake, reservoir and Holland creek.

Mr. Colby visualized Holland creek as the city's potential watershed, where large storage can be developed without heavy expenses.

In summary Mr. Colby stated "The City of Ladysmith would be well advised to investigate thoroughly all the possibilities of creek 163 (Holland Creek) and endeavor to exploit this creek before doing further development work on Stocking Lake.

ADEQUATE STORAGE

"While there is adequate storage at Stocking Lake, there is definite leakage through the dam or beneath it."

Locating and stopping this he said would be fairly difficult and expensive.

Another possibility that should be investigated he suggested, was tapping Stocking Lake at or near its northwest end and letting it fall in an open channel to a branch of Holland Creek.

"This would be a fairly costly project but once completed it is simple to operate with practically no maintenance. Most of your water would then arrive at its impounding area without mechanical help and an earth-fill dam at Holland Creek can be raised as storage requirements dictate, which is not the case at Stocking Lake."

Courtenay Festivities Draw Large Crowd

COURTENAY — Dominion Day celebrations at Courtenay were favored by good weather and a large crowd lined the streets to see the colorful parade go to Lewis park.

The procession was led by fire trucks of Courtenay, Cumberland, Comox and Union Bay followed by the ambulance and Courtenay's new water tank. Then came the RCAF band and unit followed by the air cadets.

Comox District Band led a parade of majorettes, ladies of the Eagles, Pythian Sisters decorated bicycles, comic groups and a good number of decorated floats. Sid Williams on his "steam-driven" trike added a comic note as did also the mock fire engine of White Bros.

At the park these prizes were awarded:

Riemeste Block, Lawrence McIntyre and John Carrigan, best decorated bicycle; Gail Woodrow and Margaret Janes, best juvenile comic grouping; Diane Stacey, Darlene and Sandra Lee, best individual comic; Nu Phi Mu and the Eagles, best organized float; Mrs. Marion Frame, best private float.

At the park, speakers were introduced to W. C. Moore, MLA for Comox district. Tom Menzies, past president of the Native Sons, presented the Comox Valley Pioneers who were able to be present.

Lyle Engemoen, president of the Native Sons under whose auspices the celebrations were held, gave an address of welcome to the crowd.

EATON'S Store Services

Lose Something?

...it all! Gloves, scarves, purses, billfolds, jewellery, full shopping bags, newly-bought articles were crowding out our office staff on the mezzanine floor . . . the poor girls could hardly move around without tripping over lost and found articles! So we packed up all the articles and shifted them downstairs to the "parcel checking" department on the lower main floor . . . you know, right beside the Malted Milk Bar. The familiar blue "Parcel Checking" sign will soon be altered to read "Lost and Found and Parcel Checking" so watch for it. In the meantime just remember where it is . . . and if you've lost something in the store, come in and ask for it. We do our best to track down owners of items having identifying marks, but gloves, scarves, umbrellas and the like just don't give us any clues . . . We've got to count on you to come in and claim them.

Park Your Packages

While we're in the department . . . might as well remind you about our parcel checking service. We know how laden a housewife can get when she comes to EATON'S on her weekly shopping spree, so we offer a helping hand by looking after her parcels while she finishes her errands. To make sure you get back just what you left, we attach a numbered metal tag to your bag and give a mate tag to you. Just present the tag when you claim your parcel, and within seconds it will be in your hands again. We'll keep your bundles for 10 minutes or the entire day . . . just another EATON'S service.

Any Complaints?

Every now and then a mistake is made . . . and we at EATON'S are just as sorry as you are that it happened . . . that's why we have a Service Bureau. If you have any complaints, just give us a call or drop into the office, centrally located on the Mezzanine. Just as quickly as possible we'll put things right again by making the necessary adjustments. Delivery problems are our specialty. If something you ordered didn't arrive when you expected it to, don't hesitate to call us. We'll start a full-scale investigation to track down your parcel and have it delivered to your door . . . pronto!

Phone Your Orders

Do you know about our Order Line? We want you to know about it, and use it as often as you wish, because it's one of our most time-saving customer services. If you can't get into town to do your shopping . . . call the Order Line and tell us what you want. No item is too small to merit our attention. We'll round up all the items you ask for, no matter how many departments we have to visit to find them. Everything from notions to stationery can be ordered in one call, and speedily delivered to your door.

Two-Hour Parking

Parking the car takes you a minimum of time and effort when you take advantage of EATON'S two-hour parking lots. Just drive in and leave your car in our capable hands. Remember to have your claim check stamped by an EATON'S sales clerk . . . then when you return for your car and present it to the attendant he won't charge you a penny. There are two lots to serve you . . . one right beside the Vancouver Island Coach Lines depot on Broughton Street . . . the other on View Street, half a block up from Douglas.

Stolen Kiss Brings Youth Into Court

An attempted kiss that was resisted brought Ajit Singh, 18, 560 John street, into city police court yesterday.

He pleaded guilty to assault, causing bodily harm, to Eva Klingsat, 488 Swinford, while she was working as a taxi dispatcher about midnight, June 11.

In resisting Singh's advances, the woman suffered a bruised right eye, police said. Singh slapped her, she said.

Magistrate Henry Hall remanded the accused until today for sentence.

Elimination of the traffic bottleneck at Fountain Circle will be discussed by city council's public works committee today.

Mayor Claude L. Harrison, as chairman of the police commission, voted last week to ask city council for action on Fountain Circle.

He said yesterday he would ask the public works committee immediately to discuss methods of eliminating the bottleneck.

The mayor said he was in favor of dividing the intersection to separate Gorge and Government from Douglas and Hillside.

Results of a dental examination, which will be known later today, will probably remove any remaining doubts of the identity of a body recovered from waters off Sheringham Point June 29 as Leif Harested, 30, reported missing from the lighthouse tender Estevan over two weeks ago.

Following an autopsy Saturday, pathologist Dr. R. G. D. McNeeley said there was "absolutely" no indication of foul play.

Earlier, commercial fisherman Ben Koines, 51, Harested's uncle, identified clothing found on the body as that of his nephew.

Cygnet Vanishes

One of the two cygnets hatched this year in Beacon Hill park has mysteriously disappeared, Parks Administrator W. H. Warren said yesterday.

But he had good news as well as bad. A pair of wood ducks have a young one, Mr. Warren said—the first hatched in the park.

Summer flowers, he reported, are approaching their most attractive stage in the park. Blue Himalayan poppies are at their best, and giant, eight-foot lilies from the Himalayas are ready to bloom. The lilies are in two beds between the deer pen and rose gardens.

Roses are just coming into bloom and will be in full bloom for the next two weeks. Flowers and foliage, Mr. Warren said, are both outstanding this year.

Master of ceremonies will be Vernon Ridgway, president of the underwriters' association.

Patrol Starts Monday

Five members of the Corps of Commissionaires probably will start patrolling city parking meters next Monday, City Manager C. C. Wyatt said yesterday.

The commissionaires were sworn in as special constables Thursday by Magistrate H. C. Hall.

Closer supervision in the parking meter area will be the only change from the present police system, Mr. Wyatt said. Fines will still be paid at the police station.

The commissionaires, he said, will check closely on motorists breaking the regulations by staying longer than one hour at a meter.

Minesweeper Saves Stricken Fish Boat

A dramatic Dominion Day rescue of a disabled 70-foot fishing vessel in 30 to 40-foot waves off the coast of San Francisco highlighted the cruise of the Second Canadian Minesweeping squadron which returned to Esquimalt yesterday.

HMCS Comox, senior ship of the flotilla commanded by Cmdr. J. V. Steele, effected the rescue of the fishing boat Raven from Seattle, with a crew of two, on request of the U.S. Coast Guard station at Drake's bay.

Comox towed the Raven to safety.

HIGH WINDS

The flotilla had put into Drake's bay about 40 miles west of the Golden Gate bridge at San Francisco, to escape high seas and winds blowing a steady 45 miles an hour and up to 70 miles in gusts, when a distress call was heard "somewhere off the U.S. coast."

Cmdr. Steele set out.

The fishing vessel was located by radar.

The Comox circled the stricken boat, pouring oil on the water to reduce the sea. A line was then fired to the fish boat and after two efforts the two men on board managed to pull a line aboard.

At that stage the two fishermen were so exhausted they didn't have the strength to heave on the towing hawser. The line snapped.

The Comox made five approaches to pass a hawser.

Cmdr. Steele gave full credit for getting a line aboard the Raven to Lieut. J. M. Cutts of Victoria, whom, he said, "threw a heaving line farther than I have ever seen one go before."

Cmdr. Steele said it would have been hopeless to try to get the men off the fish boat. He thought if the Comox had not found the boat it would have been lost.

Dog's Departure Puzzles Owner

There's a dog-snatcher at work here, says John Munro, whose three-year-old Pekingese, Lin, has disappeared.

The dog jumped out of Mr. Munro's car at his home, 1647 Hollywood crescent, at 1.20 p.m. yesterday and vanished.

"We called and ran after him immediately," Mr. Munro told The Daily Colonist. "He ran into the yard next door and I ran after him.

"Then, pouff, he wasn't there!"

The black Pekingese has brown feet and a white streak in his tail.

Mr. Munro is offering a reward for return of the dog and is anxious that information be telephoned to him at 4-6703.

Little Cash Missing In 100 Lost Letters

Disappearance of about 100 letters containing money and applications for the summer school of education courses in Victoria is still being investigated by postal authorities.

The letters disappeared in May when some 1,900 teachers in the province mailed their applications to the summer school director. Most contained postal notes, money orders and cheques.

"Very little" cash is missing, it was learned last night.

A special investigator is working in Victoria under instruction by A. E. Catterall, district director of postal services at Vancouver.

He has made inquiries at the legislative buildings post office.

The provincial finance department also conducted its own inquiry but officials seem satisfied the missing mail never reached the legislative buildings.

MOSTLY FROM MAINLAND

Missing applications were mostly from the Mainland. An earlier report indicated that they were mailed from southern Vancouver Island.

They contained an application form, $3 registration fee and in some cases, $7 for each course the teachers planned to take.

It is believed the 100 letters disappeared at one time. There have been no further losses since the original disappearances in May.

About 1,900 teachers will attend the summer school this year, making it Canada's largest. It is to be held at Lansdowne Junior High school and Victoria college.

$500,000 Housing Project To Add to Esquimalt Boom?

An 11-lot housing project which a municipal councillor said would cost $500,000 may be built by a company which moved from Victoria "with the aim of developing Esquimalt property."

Esquimalt council last night received an offer from Thor Loan and Investment Co. Ltd., 476 Nelson street, to buy and develop a proposed sub-division on Lampson Place, near Esquimalt high school.

The company offered to pay the assessed value of the 13 present lots, described as "small and poorly-shaped." It was explained that John Graeme, municipal engineer, had suggested a total of 11 lots for the subdivision.

$175,000 YEAR AGO

"The estimated cost a year ago was about $175,000," said Coun. J. E. Carey. "But they will have to lay out about half a million dollars now."

Increase in cost apparently is due to the company's offer to build "an all-weather gravel road and sewer," and, if council wishes, surface drainage, curbs and gutters on a local improvement basis.

Council delayed action on the offer until Mr. Graeme submits a full report.

Approval was given to zoning by-law amendments which will allow D. A. McLeod, 892 Admirals road, to construct a two-storey, eight-suite apartment building on adjacent property.

COST NOT RELEASED

Clack and Clayton, architects, are drawing final plans. No figure on cost was released.

Coun. James Bryant, public works committee chairman, said municipal crews would begin the $40,000 local-improvement sewer project in the Uganda-McNaughton area "about August 1."

Council also learned that curb and gutter construction has been started in the $162,000 rebuilding project along Admirals road. Curbs and gutters have also been built on Head street and paving of Wollaston street has been completed.

Building pace set in Esquimalt earlier this year kept six months' construction figures well ahead of 1954 although June totals were up only slightly over last year's.

Since the first of the year 90 permits were issued by the municipal building inspector for construction valued at $542,710. During the same period last year a total of 67 permits was issued for $320,405.

Fewer permits have been granted for private dwellings this year, but the total value is higher than in 1954. Total for the six-month period for 33 dwellings is $291,700. Half-year figures last year show 35 dwelling permits issued for $236,800.

Total permits granted last month numbered 16, valued at $66,780, only a slight increase over June, 1954 figures of 14 permits for $66,000.

Oak Bay construction dipped sharply in June but six-month figures were well ahead of 1954.

Only 11 private dwelling permits valued at $202,500 were granted last month, compared with 20 permits for $260,000 for the same month last year. Total permits in June were 28 for $291,870. In June 1954 36 permits were granted for $335,991.

Six-month totals for 1955 are 201 permits granted for a total value of $1,554,048. For the same period last year, 171 permits were issued for $1,226,473 in construction.

Private dwelling construction is down slightly since the first of the year. Seventy permits have been issued this year for $963,950 in homes. At this time last year 82 permits for dwellings had been granted for construction valued at $1,034,200.

J. H. Dalgleish Chosen As Education Chief

Appointment of J. H. Dalgleish of Vancouver as supervisor of technical and adult education for Greater Victoria schools was announced yesterday by the school board.

Starting in September, Mr. Dalgleish will succeed John S. White who has held this position for four years and who is now joining the department of education. He becomes director of technical and vocational education for the province.

Mr. Dalgleish is a graduate of Delta Collegiate Institute of Hamilton. He taught industrial arts for seven years in North Vancouver and for the last three years has trained vocational teachers at the Vancouver Vocational Institute.

SERGEANT INSTRUCTOR

During the Second World War he was a sergeant instructor with the Canadian Army's trades school at Hamilton. He has been associated with committees working on curriculum revision and apprenticeship training.

W. Stewart Gibson of the F. T. Fairey Vocational-Technical Unit will become assistant supervisor of technical and adult education for Greater Victoria.

Mr. Gibson worked as a machinist with the CPR for five years and turned to teaching in 1940. For the last 12 years he has taught classes in industrial arts and vocational technical education in Victoria, and for 10 years has taught at summer school.

NEW TEACHERS

The school board has also confirmed the probationary appointments of 15 new elementary school teachers and four secondary school teachers for the 1955-56 school year.

The elementary teachers are Gilberte M. Allard, Leonard W. Anderson, Heather Belle Carolan, Mrs. Phyllis B. Clement, Alan David Harmston, Calvin D. Hoffman, Effie Jernsle, Kenneth H. Leighton, Jessie McAllister, Nella L. McKelvie, Mrs. Margery H. Scanlon, Ruth Strang, Mrs. Barbara S. P. Sutherland, J. Anne Vickers and Marlene J. Vance.

Secondary teachers are Thomas G. Hatcher, Joyce Crabtree, Mrs. Margaret M. Cowie and Howard L. Clement.

New Dockyard Chief Due Here August 15

Capt. J. B. Caldwell of New Glasgow, Nova Scotia, will arrive at Esquimalt August 15 to take over the post of superintendent of HMC Dockyard here, The Daily Colonist learned last night.

He will officially assume his new job on August 22 when the present superintendent, Commodore B. R. Spencer, will leave for Ottawa to become engineer-in-chief at naval headquarters.

Commodore Spencer said last night he "would be very sorry to leave Victoria and his associations at the dockyard." He has been dockyard suprintendent here since October, 1948, and he described the post as "one of the plum appointments for technical officers."

He said he would like to pay "a very sincere tribute to the wonderful support that has always been afforded to me by all members of the dockyard team."

In his new job Commodore Spencer will be responsible for design and manufacture of propulsion machinery for Canadian naval vessels.

Commodore Spencer is a native of Port Alberni and was confirmed in the rank of commodore two years ago.

He spent three years aboard the destroyer Saguenay. In 1943 he went to Belfast to oversee installation of machinery and boilers in the cruiser Ontario. He joined the navy as a cadet in 1924.

Grave-Robbers Suspected

Two Indian Skulls Dumped Outside City Man's Home

Ghoulish grave robbers are believed responsible for leaving two human skulls outside the home of N. B. Hill, 1609 Richmond.

Mr. Hill found one skull in his driveway when he drove his car home about 1 a.m. Sunday. He told city police it was not there when he left home an hour earlier.

The second skull was discovered lying in a gutter near the house yesterday by a member of the family.

Both skulls are those of Indian men aged about 30 who died about 50 years ago, said Wilson Duff, provincial museum anthropologist, who is keeping them for further examination.

He added that they were probably stolen from one of many Indian graves in the Victoria district.

Involuntary Dips Feared As Sequel to Strait Swim

City officials are afraid that a mass harbor swim could be the sequel to a solo strait swim.

Yesterday, as a result of dangerous crowding of the wharf when Berl Thomas returned from his strait swim attempt June 26.

"Some parts of the planking were a foot under water," Mr. Wyatt said. "We are fearful of an accident, even a fatality, from the crowds that could assemble on the wharf."

The signs restrict admittance to the wharf to business calls.

Mr. Wyatt asked for public co-operation.

Plaque Will Mark Site of B.C.'s First Common School

A plaque that will mark the site of British Columbia's first common school is gracing a mantel at the Craigdarroch school board offices, awaiting erection of a cairn on Yates opposite Camosun.

The monument is expected to be dedicated in late September. The plaque has been prepared by the provincial department of trade and industry, and bears this inscription, by Provincial Archivist Willard Ireland:

"The educational system of British Columbia had its origin on this site. Here, in 1853, the first colonial common schoolhouse was erected. That log building in 1878 housed the first high school to be established in the province. The new public school built that year later became the Boys Central School. In 1903 education at the university level began with the establishment of Victoria College in the high school building erected in 1902. That building later became Girls Central School."

Girls Central school was torn down to make way for the new Central Junior High school, and its cornerstone has now been placed in the school grounds on Fernwood. The old bell of Girls Central has been polished and placed in the lobby of Central Junior High.

To the west of Central Junior High, fill from the excavation at Victoria high had been dumped and will be levelled into sports grounds, School Inspector John Gough said yesterday.

The grounds will not be completed, however, until the painters' and carpenters' wooden shops on the south side of the property, and the old brick Pemberton gymnasium, have been demolished, probably next year.

Beauty and You

By MARION MATTHEWS

Good figures show off best in bathing suits just as the poor figure suffers from its revealing lines and maximum of coverage. Whatever type figure yours is, do choose the suit engineered for flattery by its cut and color.

Today designers employ all sorts of tricks inside and out to give you the form divine. For those of you who like the flattery of bra and girdle construction in a bathing suit, these features are included in many. For those of you who like a little build-up at the hipline are some cut to take pressing.

Whenever something a new swimsuit try it on as you would a dress to be certain it does something for you. This season suits have a slimmer look in that they frequently have a dropped waistline. Skirts often begin at the hipbone to achieve this feeling. This is attractive and becoming on the slim and average figure with a willow waistline. If you are inclined to roll over at this point of have a stiffness of bearing, try some other style. The dress maker suit, for example, with flared skirt beginning at the normal waistline would be a much wiser choice.

Consider the top of your suit. This area enjoys hard smooth concerned bust areas and if you do not require emphasis for this part of your figure, you can wear one easily. However, if you are just a little too thin, choose the bathing suit with a cuff line or ruffle fill-in at the top of the bra area. This will be more flattering.

Consider the magic of small and pattern in your bathing suit just as you do your dress clothes. Darker tones in bathing suits help promote a slim, pared down look while white and pale tones will give the illusion of a little more weight and accent to curves.

Don't choose a bathing suit in a hurry. It should be pretty on the beach as well as serviceable in water. You want to be the mermaid in or out of the waves.

Dogs To Perform at Garden Fete

Highlight of the garden party being held this afternoon at the home of Mr. of Mrs. R. A. Wootton, 1255 Victoria avenue, by the women's parish guild of St. Mary's church, will be the show put on by the performing dogs owned by Mrs. H. W. Mellish of Heatherbelle kennels. The affair, which is to be opened at 2.30 p.m. by Most Rev. H. E. Sexton will also feature rides for the children in the "doggy cart," afternoon tea, and stalls of knitting, sewing, handweaving, superfluities, books, bottles, aprons, fruit and vegetables, delicatessen, home cooking and candy. Completing arrangements for the event are, left to right, Mrs. T. B. Bird, treasurer; Mrs. A. A. Blyth, secretary, and Mrs. W. K Willis.

Plumber, Funeral Director Top List of 800 Altrusa Delegates

TORONTO (CP)—Some of the most unusual professions used by women are represented by the 800 delegates in Toronto to attend the Altrusa international biennial convention July 3 to 7.

Heading the list of unusual jobs, Mrs. Grace Sherwood of Brockton, Mass., one of two women master plumbers in the United States.

Running her a close second are Keighly of Hopkinsville, Ky., and Eva Bore of Portland, Me., executive security officer of a bank—a rare occupation for a woman.

In the heavy industry field are Mrs. Harriet H. Mott of Dallas, Tex., who runs a steel scaffolding company, and Mrs. Myrtle Pilgrim of Chicago, president of the Chicago Pulley and Shafting Co.

A Toronto delegate, Catherine O'Brien, owns her own fleet of taxis.

Delegates to the business, professional and executive women's service club represent clubs in Mexico, Guatemala, Britain, Puerto Rico and Italy.

Altrusa channels its work into almost every aspect of community life from fund drives to scholarship aids with special emphasis on aid to the aged.

Lucille Hecht Chicago editor of the club's magazine said in an interview Monday that when Altrusa was organized at Nashville, Tenn. during the First World War, the club's aims began [illegible] women [illegible] and [illegible].

The aged remain the club's chief concern. Its branches concentrate on training older women for jobs and persuading employers to accept them. A successful experiment she said, has been Altrusa's practice of granting from $50 to $100 to older women for vocational rehabilitation.

Mrs. Alice K. Leopold, United States labor department official, told the convention women [illegible] school without understanding.

Congregations Honor Rev. and Mrs. Bompas

On Thursday evening June 23, in the hall of Ganges United church, more than 100 friends met to honor Rev. and Mrs. J. G. G. Bompas, who are retiring and leaving for Victoria where they plan to reside.

Rev. Bompas, whose family has made a name for itself in church work for generations, has been in the active ministry for over 40 years, serving in China and later in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and B.C.

The program of the farewell gathering, which was opened by the singing of "O Canada," included a sing-song led by Mr. C. J. Zenkie, a piano duet by Mrs. Colin Mouat and her daughter Coline, a quartet by the Bradleys, Ira, Millie, Wayne and Sandra, a piano solo by Coline Mouat, a short talk by Mr. E. J. Avery, and a selection by the United church choir.

Following this, Mrs. John A. Tomlinson, chairman, called upon Mrs. W. M. Mouat, who presented to Mrs. Bompas, on behalf of the ladies' organization of the church, a set of nested tables and a quilt embroidered with the names of members and friends of the congregation.

Mr. Zenkie presented Rev. Bompas with a well-filled wallet, a gift to him from the congregation of the Salt Spring Island United church. Both Rev. and Mrs. Bompas spoke of their pleasure in the work and in the friendships that they had formed on Salt Spring.

The final speaker was Rev. W. Buckingham of Sidney, who attended to express the appreciation of the presbytery and of the United church of Canada of the work done by the Rev. and Mrs. Bompas. He regretted sincerely that retirement was claiming them and wished them God speed.

The evening was concluded with refreshments served by the ladies.

The regular monthly get-together of former Toronto area residents will meet under the auspices of the Toronto social group on Wednesday July 6 at 8.15 p.m. in the Orange hall, Courtney street. Games and refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. S. Naylor Wed In Recent Ceremony at Duncan

Baskets of lilac, lupin and peonies, and bowls of roses decorated Bethel Baptist church, Duncan, for the recent wedding of Miss Lois Mae Pack and Mr. Christopher David Scott Naylor. The double-ring ceremony uniting the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Pack, College street, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Naylor, Cobble Hill, was performed by Rev. W. O. McKee.

To the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. McKee the lovely bride entered the church on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. Her floor-length gown of crisp nylon was fashioned with tucked bodice, rounded neckline and tiny lace-trimmed sleeves. The bouffant skirt of two layers of nylon net over taffeta had three rows of narrow lace inserts and flared gracefully over a full crinoline.

For "something borrowed" she wore her sister's fingertip veil of illusion misting from a halo of tucked nylon and lily of the valley. Elbow-length matching mitts, white satin slippers and the groom's gift of a pearl necklace completed her ensemble. Her bouquet was of red roses and white carnations tied with white satin streamers into which were entwined sprays of lily of the valley.

Mrs. Jack Geiger, who was matron of honor for her sister, chose a dress of green nylon net over taffeta and carried a bouquet of pink gladiolus and yellow roses.

Bridesmaids, Miss Elaine Thomsett and Miss Carol Pack, were identically gowned in pink nylon net over taffeta and carried bouquets of pink carnations and sweet peas and yellow carnations and sweet peas, respectively.

Little Marilyn Pack, who was flower girl for her aunt, wore a floor-length frock of embroidered nylon net over yellow taffeta and carried a basket of rock flowers and pinks.

All attendants were dainty headdresses of ribbon and net and matching mitts.

Mr. Derrick Naylor was best man for his brother and ushering were Mr. Dan Pack and Mr. Tony Naylor.

Soloist was Miss Margaret McKee who sang "Together" and "The Benediction" and during the signing of the register, the organist played "Because" and "Guide Us, O Thou Great Jehovah."

At the reception which was held in the Alderlea Tea Room, the young couple were assisted in receiving by their mothers. Mrs. Pack chose a rust-colored suit dress with pink and white accessories while Mrs. Naylor was in grey accented with black and white. Both had corsages of yellow roses.

The bride's table was centred by a three-tiered wedding cake flanked by tall tapers and surrounded by pink tulle. Bowls of roses graced the guest tables. Mr. M. J. Anderson proposed the toast to his niece.

During the reception, Mr. Derrick Naylor read telegrams of congratulations and Mrs. Ned Pack looked after the guest book.

Before leaving on honeymoon, the bride presented her bouquet to her great-uncle and great-aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. Gillies. For travelling she chose a pink floral taffeta dress, beige topcoat, beige and pink accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Naylor will make their home on Chesterfield street, Duncan.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. H. Powell and Beverly, Mr. and Mrs. A. Ashworth, all of Victoria, and Mr. and Mrs. F. Thomsett and Sherrill of Lake Cowichan, travelled to Duncan for the wedding.

A Baking Hint

Where there are several cakes of the same kind to be baked at one time, it will save much work and time if the entire ingredients required are mixed in an ice cream freezer.

Chapter Hears Reports

Reports on the Empire Day service intercession service and Ross Bay memorial service formed the major part of the business at the recent meeting of the Victoria Municipal Chapter, IODE.

Mrs. J. L. Gates, regent, reported that a letter of welcome had been forwarded through the proper channels to HRH Princess Royal by Royal Bride Chapter. She also announced that six crates of games and toys had been sent to the leper colony, and $134 to the Gorge Road hospital.

Miss C. McNab, educational secretary, stated that a scholarship of $50 had been presented to Noel Boston and one for $100 to H. Robin Brommell.

Damgaard son of Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Damgaard, 758 Garnaud Street. Dr. W. G. Wilson of Bralorne and Mrs. R. Krueger sang "O Perfect Love" accompanied by Mr. R. Krueger.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of imported white lace posed over champagne satin in period style fashioned with long sleeves and bateau neckline outlined with pearl sequins. Her dainty Elizabethan headdress held a fingertip veil of matching lace. Red roses white sweet peas and stephanotis were in her crescent bouquet.

Mrs. S. Alexander was matron of honor for her sister, in a pastel green net over taffeta gown with strapless brocaded bodice and peplum. Mrs. M. Pretty was bridesmaid, in a mauve dress in similar style. Miss Janice Hunter was a de more flower girl in a pale pink organdy frock and carried a small basket of spring flowers. Senior attendants carried cascade bouquets of pink carnations.

Michael J. Pretty was best man, and ushers were Reg Pat- by and Stanley Bell.

A three-tier cake in a mist of tulle, and decorated with rose- buds centred the bride's table at the reception which followed at the home of the bride's parents.

A lace cloth covered the table and white candles in silver hold ers flanked the cake. Lance J. Muirhead, uncle of the bride

DO I TELL YOU I WAS SOBER?!

Daily Astrology

BY RITA DEL MAR

TUESDAY, JULY 5, 1955

Today's question: "The humblest individual exerts some influence, either for good or evil, upon others." — Henry Ward Beecher.

Tuesday for everyone. Make consistent progress but don't be hasty. Give some time and attention to your future considerations. Complete what is under way and overcome obstacles.

Look for your birthdate and birthsign below

March 21 to April 19 (Aries) — Make gains regarding your ambitions duties; strike a cheery note but avoid haste, impulse.

April 20 to May 20 (Taurus) — Work on matters of a progressive nature. Be sure you are building on sound foundation.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini) — Others are inclined to be optimistic, benefit through their resources. Safeguard reserves.

June 21 to July 22 (Cancer) — Rely more upon co-operation to get ahead. Permit your associates to lead the way.

July 23 to August 22 (Leo) — Be conscientious and capable to promote your business activities. Buy or sell within the boundaries of practicality.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo). Promote talents, skills, pleasures; you can get some good breaks in this connection if you avoid risks.

September 23 to October 22 (Libra) — Domestic and work matters should work out well; forward progressive ventures.

October 23 to November 21 (Scorpio) — Seek information. Lend a hand to friends. Let others know your thoughts. Use care en route.

November 22 to December 21 (Sagittarius) — Give practical dealings priority, letting other things go for the time being. Stress economy.

December 22 to January 19 (Capricorn) Promote personal interests; make plans, decisions; concentrate on bringing about progress in future considerations.

January 20 to February 18 (Aquarius)—There is much to do at this time. Be conventional; strengthen bonds with acquaintances.

February 19 to March 20 (Pisces) — You can benefit through friends or folks you are fond of. Be guarded with funds, confidences.

Planning ahead—Good for entertainment, sociability, etc. July 5, 8, 9, 15, 17, 19.

| 3 ♣ | Pass | 3 ◇ | Pass |
| 5 ♣ | All Pass | | |

Critics are able, without great difficulty, to point out inaccuracies and inadequacies of the 4-3-2-1 point count. However, there is one thing that point count should succeed in doing and that is eliminate the wail that South put up when his two-club bid came under fire after the play of today's hand. "But, partner, I had two aces! I couldn't bid one no-trump." A careful review of the laws of contract bridge has failed to turn up any such prohibition.

True, when you have two aces you should endeavor to find some more encouraging response than one no-trump. But you cannot overlook the fundamental requirement that you must have at least three winners in order to raise the level of the bidding. The point count requisite, at least 10 points, is more likely to meet that requirement than the two honor trick requirement, but common sense is apt to tell you when your hand probably won't take more than two tricks. Then whether these tricks are in the form of aces or of low card winners you hope to develop, you are overboard if you carry the contract beyond seven tricks. The reason for this is that partner is already counting on your hand to win two tricks by the law of averages—he has taken that expectation into account in his opening bid.

South had a chance to creep out of his troubles when North merely raised his two club bid to three. The "two aces" theory pushed South into making one more bid after which even the safe position of the heart king behind the ace left South one trick short.

Let's suppose that South makes his proper response of one no-trump. Now North bids two clubs and South can carry that bid forward to three. Here North may gamble on making three no-trump which can be made because the heart king will win a trick. Or he may pass and play the hand at a safe part score. It would not be reprehensible to reach either a three-club or a three no-trump contract; it is poor bidding, however, to arrive at a contract for which there isn't a play even with the best of good breaks.

No Cheering Crowds Greet Miss Swimsuit

Hazelwood Doreen Wells who tried to bring this year's "Miss Canada" title to Victoria, returned from Ontario yesterday [illegible]

Only person to welcome "Miss Victoria" at the airport was Joel Neufeld of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Eighteen year old Doreen who was among the first 10 of 24 contestants, brought back the titles of "Miss Swimsuit" and "Miss Congeniality".

Mr. Neufeld, chairman of the "Queen" contest in the Victoria Industrial and Agricultural Exhibition, said last night: "Doreen might as well have been an Arab stealing away in the night. She wasn't welcomed back and she wasn't given any send-off.

"I can't think of any other city in Canada where there would have been such lack of interest.

"We feel that Doreen represents Victoria and that her wonderful effort at the 'Miss Canada' contest can do much good for the city.

That is why we hope that this will become an annual thing and that both merchants and the city council will see their way to giving more support.

"We realize that this is all new. This is the first time that a 'Miss Victoria' has tried to become 'Miss Canada.' It has cost the chamber more than $1,000 but although we have overspent there have not so far been any objections from members."

The Lavores hope to send Miss Wells to Vancouver in August for the Miss Pacific Exhibition contest. Mr. [illegible] Neufeld said.

Doreen went straight to work at the BC Telephone Company when she returned yesterday morning — she did not even go home to change.

"They didn't say anything about my being late for work," she said last night. I should have been at my desk at 8.30 but we couldn't leave London in time because of a farewell lunch.

"When I first got to London and saw all the beauty competitors I wanted to come home. They turned out to be really nice girls, there was no jealousy at all."

Snakes Go on Honeymoon

Heini Demmer, an Austrian engineer who captures wild animals alive as a hobby, shows off a 13-foot python which he and his bride brought to New York with them on their honeymoon. The two were married in Africa, where Demmer trapped 90 baby elephants, zebras, ostriches, cheetahs, monkeys and hippos, all destined for zoos and circuses.

Famous Actress To Play Hamlet 'Costumed' in a Pair of Slacks

DAVROS Greece (UP) — Judith Anderson, America's queen of classical drama, announced yesterday she plans to play Hamlet dressed as a man.

"Sex is no problem," she said.

She will play Shakespeare's most difficult male role in a pair of slacks.

[illegible] desire to revenge his father's death." Miss Anderson said. "His love scenes with Ophelia are primarily ones of rejection."

Miss Anderson made her dis[illegible] after [illegible] she de[illegible] scribed as "one of the most exciting theatrical [illegible] of my life."

She attended a performance of Euripides' Medea at the ancient [illegible] Epidaurus drama festival.

Miss Anderson, known to millions for her [illegible] Medea in the Robinson Jeffer's version of the Euripides play, said, "My Medea is nothing but a pretty postcard com-[illegible] pared to [illegible] pale and wooden" [illegible]

"I see it as something direct and uncluttered," she said, "with plain elevations, simple settings and colors, largely black and white with grey and cream tones in between.

The lighting will leave the stage partially in darkness, and illuminate actors from the waist upward.

Costumes will be slightly different from normal clothes, but not costumish," she said.

She plans to start work on the production after finishing a four-month tour playing Medea in Australia beginning October 6.

Judge Upholds Jail Sentence For Esquimalt Woman Driver

Expert [illegible] the second case of impaired [illegible] in the Provincial Court. Dr. [illegible] Joseph E. [illegible] told [illegible] Grades were [illegible] condemned [illegible] Mrs. Ellen [illegible] Esquimalt magistrate's court.

Mrs. Finn, 1127 Yvaud, will serve 14 days and is prohibited from driving for a year. It was her second conviction on the same charge.

James Proudfoot appealed on her behalf from a conviction by [illegible] magistrate A. [illegible] Cooper.

Mr. Proudfoot argued that Mrs. Finn [illegible] was [illegible] be a [illegible] addiction of drugs and alcohol. He contended the Criminal Code contained two separate offences for impairment by alcohol or [illegible]

Judge [illegible] said the act contained only one offence that of driving while the ability to do so is impaired.

"It may be impaired either [illegible] of drugs, liquor [illegible] or a combination of both," he said. "Under the influence of alcohol [illegible] driver . . . but not of drugs . . . the motor vehicle while ability is impaired by alcohol or drug . . ."

Judge Clearihue said the evidence showed that Mrs. Finn told Dr. E. J. McNiven she had taken [illegible] ounces of brandy on the early morning and had not taken drugs.

The doctor [illegible] her evidence was impaired by alcohol, the judge said.

Mrs. Finn testified the judge added, that she was in the night before the alleged offence, and between 7 a.m. and noon April 9, had taken 11½ grains of [illegible] a barbiturate, and [illegible] in bed about noon.

Evidence showed the [illegible] was purchased in 1951 and [illegible] one of four capsules used. Mrs. Finn produced a box containing one capsule but [illegible] used after the alleged offence, he said.

Judge Clearihue said it was his opinion Mrs. Finn tried to mislead police.

Johnny Reads Better Than Dad Teachers Reply to Critic Flesch

TORONTO (CP) — An Ontario educationist says that for the most part children today read more effectively than their parents did when they were children.

Clare B. Routley, assistant superintendent of elementary education for Ontario, Monday told an audience of 1,200 at the first Canadian conference on reading that his statement is supported by hundreds of scientific studies in a number of cities.

He was one of a group of speakers who addressed the conference, sponsored by the Federation of Women Teachers' Associations of Ontario.

The five-day conference, attended by leading teachers, trustees and educationists from the United States and Canada, was [illegible] opened by Ontario Education Minister [illegible]

The conference was organized partly as an answer to Rudolph Flesch of the United States who have claimed that teachers aren't teaching today's students to read. Dr. Flesch's book "Why Can't Johnny Read?" has been widely quoted in both countries.

Erastus Hover, inspector of public schools for Manitoba, said Dr. Flesch's book and other similar books "are an expression of public concern, of public dismay, or even public distress over what is happening in our schools."

Dr. Hove suggested that whether her listeners agreed or disagreed with what these books say, it is well to remember that there is nothing new in connection with these popular denunciations of our schools. Outstanding leaders at various times have bemoaned the ruin and decay in education."

She added:

"Teachers are aware that reading skills must be taught at every level . . . Every teacher must be a teacher of reading for as long as she teaches. We are not free to evade it."

Mr. Routley said one of the [illegible] teacher [illegible] the [illegible] of reading [illegible] the [illegible] of [illegible]

The [illegible] of under teachers are not always designed to produce fluent readers. . . We shall never develop adequate programs in reading until all teachers recognize that [illegible]

Forest Fire Total Rises

A rash of small forest fires mainly in central and northern B.C. has boosted the total this year over that of 1954.

The forest service reports 492 fires up to June 30 this year, costing the department $28,857 to control. The figures for the same date in 1954 were 324 fires and $20,174.

Conditions generally are still good, however, forest officials report. The "low hazard" rating is reported for all five of B.C.'s forest districts.

Novelist-Nun Dies, Wrote Best-Sellers

NEWTON ABBOT, England (Reuters) — Novelist Beatrice Chase died here Sunday night only a few miles from the thatched roof cottage where for 50 years she saw life "through a Dartmoor window."

In two days Miss Chase, whose real name was Olive Katherine Parr, would have been 81 years old. She was a descendant of Catherine Parr, the last wife of Henry VIII.

Miss Chase was regarded by some villagers in Venton near her 16th century home, as almost a saint. Years ago she took the vows of chastity of a Roman Catholic nun and settled down in the cottage of which she wrote compellingly in best sellers such as "The Heart of the Moor" and "Through a Dartmoor Window."

VICTORY OVER RED TAPE.

Last year, with typical courage, the eccentric little lady in her long black dress and white dust-cap won a her victory over government red tape.

Officials carried her away to Barnstable hospital to spend her last days away from the beloved cottage she had vowed never to leave. They acted under a law under which she could be defined as "an aged person in need of care."

Miss Chase promptly called her lawyer. Soon her case was mulled over by high officials in Whitehall and members of parliament. After three weeks in the hospital, Miss Chase was back home again, on the wild moors she loved.

Since the death of her mother, Miss Chase lived alone, except for the dozens of cats which filled the dusty nooks and prowled among the Parr family treasures.

Villagers called her the "lady of the moor." In later years, some were a little afraid of her —she had learned how to use a revolver and kept a gun always by her bed.

Just Wandered Away

Child Safe and Sound, Bear Story Doubted

LIBBY Mont. (AP) — A two year-old girl missing overnight and feared the victim of a marauding bear was reported found alive Monday and searchers said it appeared she had merely wandered away from a family camp.

The child, Ida May Curtis, ap[illegible] parently was in good condition and there was no indication that a bear had played a part in her disappearance Sunday night.

John Horn, a lumber worker and one of more than 200 searchers who combed the area in a driving rainstorm, told The Associated Press:

"It was the concensus of everybody in the search that no bear was involved. It seems certain that the child just wandered away and then eventually got excited because bears had been seen around there."

The first stories of the incident Sunday night quoted the child's mother, Mrs. M. J. Curtis, as saying other children had seen a bear prowling on three legs, leave the family's tent and that Ida May couldn't be found.

The story spread quickly and scores of volunteers with guns went to the scene. Volunteers from as far away as Spokane, Wash., were ready to go.

Mrs. Curtis, sobbing and at times almost hysterical, told a reporter earlier today she feared a big grizzly bear had grabbed her child and vanished into the heavy brush.

At one time more than 240 men joined in the search. The party was cut down to eliminate confusion and give dogs a better chance to work.

Argentine Revolt Cost $3,500,000

BUENOS AIRES (Reuters) — Last month's abortive naval revolt against the government of President Juan Peron cost an estimated $3,500,000 in damages, Argentina's supreme council of the armed forces announced Monday. The council, which is investigating the rebellion, has impounded the property of all the rebels.

England gave us a secret

Some 100 years ago the bartender of Pimm's Restaurant of London invented a tall drink which he called Pimm's Cup. To this day, the formula for this delectable gin drink is still a secret. Try it — it's the coolest, most refreshing long-iced gin drink you ever tasted.

Here's a simple way to enjoy Pimm's No. 1 Cup: Take 2 ozs. of Pimm's No. 1 Cup; charge with lemon soda or ginger ale; add a slice of lemon, a thin slice of cucumber rind (if available) and serve well iced.

Send for free 24-page recipe booklet to P.O. Box 308, Station B, Montreal.

TV Talk

BY ROY PARRETT

The Colonist-RETA television survey is providing some interesting answers about the habits of local viewers. For instance, Channel 2 fans watch TV far less than viewers who watch other stations.

That is, if question papers already submitted to the contest are any indication.

Some TV fans watch programs as long as 12 hours a day, others as little as two hours. Most viewers average about five hours daily, according to preliminary tabulations.

But not on Channel 2 CBUT fans watch television only about two hours daily, the survey shows.

* * *

Television fans who have not already completed the Colonist RETA questionnaire will be able to pick up entry blanks at local radio and TV stores this week. Supplies of the contest forms are being distributed to the stores by the Radio Electronics Technicians' Association.

Two entries will be drawn at the end of the TV poll, and winners will make a personal appearance on a Seattle television show. The lucky winners will also be treated to a conducted tour of the Seattle TV stations to see programs being produced in the big TV studios there.

* * *

RODEO NIGHT - The Roy Rogers Championship Rodeo, complete with bronco busting, Wild West acts, the Roy Rogers Cowboys, the Sons of the Pioneers and of course Dale Evans and Roy's famous horse Trigger are seen in an hour-long telecast at 8 p.m. on Channel 2 tonight.

CHILDREN'S SHOWS - The story of Eli Whitney and his cotton gin on "World Passport," and an assortment of animals on "Fur and Feather" are the features on CBUT at 5 -

ARTHUR MURRAY - The colorful Arthur Murray Dance Party returns to local screens, tonight at 8:30 on Channel 4.

BOXING - Canadian welterweight Gene Poirer, from Niagara Falls, Ont., enters the ring at St. Nicholas Arena against Cuba's Miguel Diaz at 8:30 on Channel 12 tonight.

GIANT QUIZ - The Bible-reading grandmother will return to the "$64,000 Question" show on Channels 11 and 12 at 10 p.m. for another try at the jackpot.

SQUARE DANCING - Texas Jim Lewis heads the cast on "Junction Jamboree," a "live" presentation on Channel 5 at 9:30. Spade Cooley and his band, Don Barry and Mary Beth Hughes star in the grandest array of hoe-down entertainment ever assembled, in "Square Dance Jubilee," the feature film on Channel 12 at 10:30.

PATTI PAGE - Songstress Patti Page begins a new TV series on Channel 11 at 10:45 to be seen Tuesdays and Fridays each week.

* * *

And a pleasant day to all - especially strait swimmers.

"The power of this little gem fan will amaze you."

Retail Trade Up $10,000,000 In First Three Months of Year

A steady gain in British Columbia's economy this year is reflected in a $10,000,000 increase in retail trade for the first three months over the same period in 1954.

Value of retail trade for the first quarter was $285,900,000 this year, according to the provincial trade and industry department.

In the construction industry 2,067 starts were recorded and 2,137 completions, an increase of 764 and 1,424 respectively over the first quarter last year. Value of permits issued for residential construction stood at $27,649,000 for the same period this year, up $10,041,000 over 1954.

OIL DOUBLES

Pipeline deliveries of oil were 6,300,000 barrels compared with 3,200,000 barrels a year ago and production [illegible] reached 1,225,000,000 board feet, 293,000,000 fbm—more than 1954.

Consumption of electricity was up 234,000,000 kilowatt hours to 1,510,000,000 kwh compared to January-March, 1954.

Figures show that $53,370,000 worth of life insurance was sold in B.C. during the period, $9,180,000 more than 1954.

Esquimalt Council Sets Parking Limit

Twenty residents of the 1200 block, Colville road have won the support of Esquimalt council in their battle with RCN personnel.

Despite what Reeve A. C. Wurtele called a "colossal" list of fines, naval personnel continue to park their cars along Colville road. Including bus stops and driveways, and the citizens asked flatly that parking be stopped.

The reeve said police put tickets on cars "repeatedly" and had showed him a "colossal list" of fines, but naval officers had told him nothing could be done until completion of rebuilding of Admirals road allowed the cars to reach their former parking lot at Lang cove.

ONE-HOUR LIMIT

Councillors said the lot could be reached by other streets. They approved a one-hour limit for parking in the 1200-block Colville and crosswalks at both ends of the block.

B.C. Population Rises 4,641

British Columbia made a net gain of 4,641 in its population during the first three months of 1955.

A total of 8,209 births was recorded in the period, 1,077 more than last year. But there were 3,568 deaths, 317 more than last year.

The net gain was itself 715 higher than for the year previous.

Weekly Pay Average Up

OTTAWA (CP)—Average weekly pay of wage earners in manufacturing was $59.31 at the start of April, up from $58.12 a month earlier. It compared with $57.67 a year before, the bureau of statistics reported Monday.

Indian Lions To Be Protected

NEW DELHI (CP)—India's wild life board is trying to find a new home for the Indian lion, now found only in the Gir forests in Saurashra. This species is thought to be on the verge of extinction, with only about 300 left. A new forest preserve is being selected.

TENDERS WANTED FOR PEARSE PROPERTY

Tenders are invited for the purchase of the residence of the late Benjamin William Pearse at 1618 Fort Street, with surrounding grounds of several acres, running from Fort Street to Beghie Street. The title is held under certificate 242940-I and its legal description is Parcel "A" (D.D.49925-I) of Section 75 Victoria City, except that part thereof subdivided by Plan 2735.

Zoo Dogs To Aid Expedition

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP)—Husky dogs on display at the Auckland zoo are being borrowed for a breeding program to provide a pack for the forthcoming Antarctic expedition from New Zealand. The New Zealand glaciers will be used for training programs.

Diaries were first used by the ancient Greeks to record military events.

Western Homes

Features a

Victoria District Home . . .

Nine pages of descriptive words and pictures tell the story of one family's ideal home. Mr. and Mrs. Rowland de M. Brown took plenty of time to plan the kind of home they wanted at their three-acre lot on Brentwood Bay. How they planned and how their dream of "the perfect home" came true is entertaining and idea-producing reading.

Perhaps their functional floor plan, color scheme or choice of construction materials will spark your building or re-modeling plans.

Don't miss this enjoyable feature-length story in "the magazine for the Pacific Coast of Canada."

Helicopter To Be Shown

Advantages of the new Bristol helicopter for rescuing injured persons from difficult places will be demonstrated on the lawn of the Legislative Buildings Thursday at 4.30 p.m. when a machine is flown here for the demonstration.

Premier Bennett and other government officials will see the demonstration and civil defence workers under George Oldfield, chief warden at the Legislative Buildings, will participate.

Two "patients" will be placed on stretchers and loaded into the helicopter, capable of carrying two nurses and a doctor besides.

East German Chief Leaves for 'Cure'

BERLIN (Reuters) — Wilhelm Pieck, 79-year-old president of Communist East Germany, Monday boarded an eastbound train to take a "cure," the East German news agency ADN said. Pieck's destination was not released. Last summer he spent two months in a sanitorium in Russia.

Happy Valley PTA Group Elects Officers

Mrs. R. Heald was elected president of Happy Valley PTA when the group met to complete its activities for the summer.

Other officers elected where Mrs. H. Peterson, vice-president; Mrs. F. Willing, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. J. Lohbrunner, social convener; Mrs. R. Campbell, adult education; Mrs. Kennedy, program; Mrs. F. Chidlow, ways and means; Mrs. E. Hungle, membership; Mrs. J. Middleton, youth welfare, and Mrs. H. Johnstone, publicity.

Mrs. J. Fraser installed the new officers.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Blenkinsop were presented with PTA pins for their long membership.

CEDARGRAIN ASBESTOS SIDING has long enjoyed the endorsement of leading builders and discerning home-owners. Made of asbestos and cement, it is fireproof, rotproof, permanent as stone. It is available in a choice of colors.

Now, an amazing Johns-Manville development makes Cedargrain Asbestos Siding even better than ever! Silicone Seal is invisible. It is not a surface lacquer to wear off, peel or scuff. Although a highly competent water repellant it still allows the wall to "breathe". And it will last for years.

For free, full color booklet on Silicone-Sealed Cedargrain Siding, see your J-M dealer, or write Canadian Johns-Manville, Dept. N-58, 565 Lakeshore Road East, Port Credit, Ontario.

Pre-punched for nailing, J-M Cedargrain Siding is easy to apply to new homes and over old sidewalls in remodelling.

Fanciest Mutt Can Win Prize

A Saturday afternoon "mutt show" for children will be a feature of this year's Gyro Hole-in-One Carnival, Herbert Brown told fellow-members of the Gyro Club at yesterday's luncheon meeting.

The carnival will be held from July 13 to 16 on the grounds of Victoria high school. Past carnivals were held on the Central Junior high grounds, no longer available.

More emphasis will be placed on participation by children this year, Mr. Brown said, because proceeds of the carnival will be used for completion of the Gyro park at Cadboro Bay.

A portion of the grounds on Grant street will be devoted to children's attractions. Another part of the ground in front of the school will be used for booths and bingo games, and the long stretch down Fernwood will be the hole-in-one golf pitch.

Prizes for dogs in the mutt show will be in such classifications as longest tail, shortest tail and fanciest dressed.

F. G. Smith Funeral Rites This Morning

Funeral service for Frederick George Smith, 82, a resident of Victoria for 49 years who died at Veterans' Hospital Friday, will be held from Sands' chapel today at 11 a.m. Rev. Douglas Kendell will officiate and burial will be in the Veterans' Cemetery.

Survivors are Mr. Smith's widow, Eleanor; two sons, Frederick and Frank, of Victoria; two daughters, Mrs. P. (Myrtle) South, of Victoria and Mrs. P. C. (Mable) Lock, Vancouver; nine grandchildren and one great-granddaughter.

Rotarians To Install Officers Thursday

New officers of the Rotary Club of Victoria will be installed at a dinner meeting in the Empress Hotel Thursday.

President-elect is T. M. Bradbury and immediate past president Dr. J. T. Cruise.

Other officers to be installed are: S. P. Birley and Dr. R. J. Wride, vice-presidents; T. M. Little, honorary secretary; G. E. Masters, honorary treasurer, and E. Verne Davidson, Morris L. Greene, R. Logan Mayhew, T. W. H. Walker and Walter White, directors.

Percy B. Scurrah, past district governor and past international director, will be installing officer.

A social hour will start at 6 p.m. in the lower lounge of the hotel and dinner will be served at 7 in the ballroom. Music will be provided by the Rotary orchestra, the glee club and soloists from the boys' choir. Rotarians and their wives will also be treated to a fashion show.

City Airman Promoted In France

A Victoria airman stationed at No. 1 air division headquarters of the RCAF in Metz, France, Flt.-Lt. David Pudney, has been promoted to Squadron Leader.

News of the promotion, effective last Friday, was received yesterday by the officer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Pudney, 1027 Deal street.

Sqdn.-Ldr. Pudney was educated at St. Michael's school and Oak Bay high school. He enlisted in the air force during the Second World War.

He was discharged in 1945 and after obtaining a degree of bachelor of commerce at UBC, he rejoined the air force.

The Greater the need for High Octane The Greater the need for TCP

Today's engines deliver more power than ever before—and with greater economy, too!

They're high compression engines. They're built to squeeze more power out of every drop of the high octane gasolines they require.

But high octane alone will not keep these engines delivering their full power. They must be protected against the harmful effects of deposits that build up in combustion chambers.

The reason is this:

When your engine warms up, these deposits warm up, too—glow red hot. And these glowing particles act like hot coals—ignite the gasoline mixture ahead of time . . . before the pistons reach proper firing position. This is called pre-firing and means that power works against you instead of for you.

In addition, these same deposits have another power-wasting effect: They foul spark plugs, causing your engine to miss.

Engineers will tell you there's nothing more wasteful of power and gasoline than pre-firing and spark plug "miss."

But there is an answer—there's one high octane gasoline that gives you all the advantages of high octane without the power-crippling effects of these deposits—Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP*.

TCP, the Shell-developed additive, fireproofs the deposits so that they no longer cause pre-firing. No longer can they glow red hot and ignite the gasoline mixture. And TCP stops spark plug "miss," too. Your spark plugs do the job they are supposed to do.

Start getting the full power built into your engine. Get Shell Premium with TCP. It's the most powerful gasoline your car can use!

*Shell's trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for.

Attends July 4 Party

By KENNETH BRODNEY
(United Press Correspondent)

MOSCOW (UP) — Nikita Khrushchev, Russia's new "strong man," paid an unprecented visit to the U.S. embassy yesterday and told American officials that real results can be expected from the Geneva—"Big Four" conference.

Khrushchev, accompanied by Premier Nicolai Bulganin and former premier Georgi Malenkov, sipped champagne and ate ice cream at the embassy's Independence Day garden party.

It marked the first time in the 32 years of diplomatic relations between the U.S. and the Soviet Union that a Russian chief of state had called at the embassy.

Khrushchev and other Russian officals chatted and partook of refreshments with American newsmen, who for the first time were allowed to attend and record a conversation between U.S. and Soviet representatives.

Khrushchev said real results could be expected at the Geneva "top-level" conferenee, if the West talks with the Soviets "honestly and sincerely." He indicated that the Soviets' willingness to co-operate at the conference did not spring from weakness. He emphasized that the Soviet Union was strong.

He said the West would make a great mistake if it underestimated this strength.

"The Soviet Union has never been in a more solid position," he said.

The Soviet dignitaries also spoke freely with western newsmen and other diplomats.

But it was evident Khrushchev had come mainly to make a statement to the envoys of the three western powers for the serious consideration of Washington, London and Paris—and to make a play to world opinion.

Khrushchev spoke of the speculation in the western press by "responsible people, official people and irresponsible people—all kinds of people."

"They pay little attention to what we say and prefer to read tea leaves and then they wonder why the Soviet Union has made so many proposals that please the West so much.

"There are many people," Khrushchev continued, "many people in the United States who do not understand—and not only in the U.S., but also in France and Great Britain—and there are still people who are wondering why. We say about these people who think this way . . ."

(Here Khrushchev asked whether any ladies were present, and when answered there were none, cited the following Russian proverb):

"If a mother-in-law has been unfaithful, she will not believe in the virtue of the wife of her son."

Turkey Cracks Spy Ring

ISTANBUL, Turkey (Reuters)—Istanbul police have uncovered a large Bulgarian spy network and arrested the vice-consul here of Communist Bulgaria, it was announced tonight.

Alaadin Eris, director of security Istanbul, named the vice-consul as Georgi Barbanof Cholakof.

—Eris said at a press conference that police had by order of a military court also arrested Ali Demirof, a refugee from Bulgaria, and others, including an "important person" whose name was not disclosed.

He charged the 38-year-old Bulgarian vice-consul was one of the leaders of the espionage ring and said he was arrested on Unkapani bridge over the Den Horn, while speaking with Ali Demirof late at night.

Eris added that police found important documents on Cholakof proving the existence of an espionage net. It is understood the government is to hand a note to the Bulgarian government asking for the recall of some Bulgarian diplomats.

Tupper Summons Officer

VANCOUVER (CP) — Fred Dougherty, President of the Police Federal Union, has been subpoenaed to appear before the Tupper commission investigating alleged corruption and laxity in the Vancouver police force.

It is believed that Dougherty will be questioned about action of the union some months ago, which passed a "want of confidence" motion in Chief Constable Walter Mulligan and the police commission.

The union had stated prior to the subpoena that it would be willing to offer testimony critical of the police force administration.

Indications are that the regular day-long sessions of the royal commission will not get under way until next week.

Commissioner Reginald H. Tupper said Monday that he would not disclose plans for the hearing until it officially opens at 2:30 p.m. today.

Man Dies In Leap To Harbor

An elderly Chinese, Wong King Yong, 546 Cormorant, was taken dead from the water of the inner harbor last night a few minutes after he leapt from Point Ellice bridge.

Ken Andrest, a crewman aboard the ferry Canora, saw the man jump to his death about 6 p.m.

Two other crew members, Bert Walker and Fred Bailey, lowered a rowboat and recovered the body.

Wong was taken to a log boom where police and firemen attempted to revive him before rushing him to Royal Jubilee Hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Daniel Haddon, convicted of robbing a Royal Bank of Canada branch of $10,545, is being sued by the bank for recovery of the money.

Haddon, 40, was convicted of the armed robbery and sentenced to 15 years. He is appealing.

The suit was opened in Supreme Court here Monday.

Socred Minister Defeated

EDMONTON (CP) — A Social Credit cabinet minister was defeated, the president of the Alberta Progressive Conservative Association was elected and two CCF candidates were declared winners in results announced Monday night of balloting in last Wednesday's provincial general election.

Attorney-General Lucien Maynard, a Social Credit "original," was defeated in St. Albert by a Liberal.

W. J. C. (Cam) Kirby, the Progressive Conservative, won re-election in Red Deer.

The CCF winners, the first victories for their party in the June 29 balloting, were Stan N. Rudzycki in Vegreville and Nick W. Dushensky in Willingdon.

The Social Credit party won its sixth consecutive victory in Alberta general elections by winning 36 of the 61 seats at stake.

Liberals won 11 seats, Progressive Conservatives three, CCF nominees two and one seat each went to a Liberal-Progressive Conservative, a Coalition candidate and an independent.

Upset in Alberta

LUCIEN MAYNARD

Alberta's attorney general, Lucien Maynard, was defeated on the second count of Wednesday's ballots by Arthur Soetaert, Liberal, in Edmonton, it was announced last night. At the same time two CCF candidates were declared winners in their constituencies, S. N. Ruzycki, Vegreville, and Nick Dushenski, in Willingdon, both on second counts.

Towed In on Ice Floe

Plane Owners Win Salvage Gamble

CHURCHILL, Man. (CP)—An ice floe bearing a crippled four-engine airliner was tugged into harbor here early Monday, promising a pay-off in a long-shot salvage gamble by the plane's owners.

The transport, a DC-4 belonging to United States overseas airlines, ran out of gas and was forced down on the ice of Hudson bay May 10 after delivering a hush-hush cargo to a post on the Distant Early Warning radar line. Five men aboard were rescued but the plane was too badly damaged to take off again.

Insurance companies declared the $900,000 plane a total loss and are reported to have paid full compensation. But airlines president James Cox persuaded them to sell him back salvage rights for $5,000 and set out to work to save the plane.

A salvage crew was put aboard the ice floe by helicopter and a sister DC-4 dropped bales of hay and sawdust to insulate the ice from the hot June sun.

The ice island was 40 miles northeast of Churchill, 610 miles north of Winnipeg, when the operation started. As the Bay ice began to break up it drifted another 20 miles out to sea and for a time was lost in fog.

During the week-end the weather cleared and two boats and three canoes got lines on the floating pan, dubbed "floe 407." They tugged it into the harbor and "docked" it at the national harbors board pier.

Next move will be to beach the plane.

It was not known immediately how much the airline might clear on the scheme.

Coastal Airlift Ready

Queen Charlotte Islands, Stewart and some 35 other B.C. ports will be served by luxury passenger aircraft turned into seatless freighter planes if a shipping strike which began Sunday produces an emergency.

Union Steamships' 13 vessels are being tied up as the Seafarers' International Union (AFL) struck to back demands for a 12½ per cent wage boost and 32 cents an hour increase in overtime rates.

Norman Cunningham, SIU agent at Vancouver, declined comment when asked if the strike would be extended to CPR steamers and others which supply majority of the needs of Vancouver Island residents. CPR spokesmen said they had "no information."

Canadian Pacific Airlines disclosed seats would be ripped out of 40-passenger Convairs to maintain food supplies to thousands completely isolated by the strike. Other air companies were expected to follow suit.

CPA was holding a four-engined DC-4 in reserve for an all-out airlift. Every inch of cargo space was crammed with supplies on flights to Sandspit and Port Hardy, and CPA was advising passengers for Kitimat to use the inland route to Terrace to keep coastal airlines free for freight.

The 350 seamen, whose basic wages range from $200 for a deckhand to $260 for a chief cook voted in April to strike over failure of the company to meet the wage demands, despite 15 months of negotiations.

Hardest hit by the strike are the 3,200 residents of the Queen Charlotte Islands and the 1,000 persons in Stewart, most northerly port in B.C. Strike also isolates scores of logging camps, fishing villages and Indian settlements.

'Expect To Be Here'

St. Laurent Hints He'll Run Again

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent dropped a strong hint Monday that he plans to lead the Liberal party through the next federal general election, expected in 1957 or 1958.

The prime minister, a robust 73, led the Liberals to victory at the polls in the 1949 and 1953 general elections after succeeding the late Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King as prime minister and party leader in 1948.

His hint came in a compromise offer to end the current marathon debate in the Commons on defence production powers. He committed his government to a review of the extraordinary powers if it were sought three years from now by any member who introduced a bill to this effect.

Mr. St. Laurent said:

"Honorable members may say, 'You are talking about three years from now; there will be an election before that time three years from now and you may not be here to carry out your undertaking.'

"In reply to such a suggestion, may I say that all of us on this side (Liberal side of the Commons) expect to be here three years from now to carry out any undertaking that we give to the House and to the country."

Informants said later that the prime minister was including himself, and not just referring to the Liberal party in general terms.

Veteran Offers Eye to Man He Blinded

Senseless To Put This Man in Jail, Court Says

VANCOUVER (CP) — An air force veteran who offered to give an eye to the man he unwittingly blinded was released Monday by the Court of Appeal on suspended sentence.

Neal Deaville McDonald, 29-year-old smelter worker at Kimberley, B.C., was sentenced to 18 months when he was convicted of assault at Cranbrook June 1.

The incident occurred at a dance when a dispute arose over the merits of television and radio.

Abraham Baumbach, 52, was hit by McDonald and as the result of his glasses being broken, lost the sight of his one good eye.

As counsel for McDonald, M. A. Manson produced evidence to the Court of Appeal Monday that McDonald had offered one of his own eyes.

Baumbach's doctor reported it would be of no use under the circumstances.

McDonald then began to contribute some $40 to $50 monthly toward the support of Baumbach's family, Mr. Manson said.

"It doesn't seem to make sense," said Mr. Justice C. H. O'Halloran, "to send a man of this type to jail for 18 months where he can not earn any money for either his own family or Baumbach's.

"This court has no hesitation in allowing him out on probation to go back to his job and support his wife and two children and help the person he has unwittingly injured."

McDonald was put on $1,000 bond for one year.

The Soviet Communist party chief was accompanied by Premier Nikolai Bulganin, former premier Georgi Malenkov, and all other members of the nine-man Communist party presidium except President Klementi Voroshilov and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

His hint came in a compromise offer to end the current marathon debate in the Commons on defence production powers. He committed his government to a review of the extraordinary powers if it were sought three years from now by any member who introduced a bill to this effect.

Mr. St. Laurent said:

"Honorable members may say, 'You are talking about three years from now; there will be an election before that time three years from now and you may not be here to carry out your undertaking.'

"In reply to such a suggestion, may I say that all of us on this side (Liberal side of the Commons) expect to be here three years from now to carry out any undertaking that we give to the House and to the country."

INCLUDES HIMSELF

Informants said later that the prime minister was including himself, and not just referring to the Liberal party in general terms, when he said "All of us . . . expect to be here three years from now."

They said Mr. St. Laurent has made it clear to his associates that he intends to lead the Liberals in the next general election.

Duke Tells Boys Why He Lost Beard

EDINBURGH (Reuters) — The Duke of Edinburgh Monday told why he shaved off the moustache and beard he grew while serving in the Royal Navy during the war.

He was visiting Fettes College here when he saw a boy in the art room painting a bandit, whom he had given a rather uneven black moustache.

"That is just what happened when I grew a beard," the duke said jokingly to the boy. "One side went up and the other side went down. In the end I had to shave it off."

Before the duke revealed this "secret," Britons had believed that the Queen, then Princess Elizabeth, saw him with his moustache and beard during a leave and ordered him to shave it off.

Man Dies In Leap To Harbor

An elderly Chinese, Wong King Yong, 546 Cormorant, was taken dead from the water of the inner harbor last night a few minutes after he leapt from Point Ellice bridge.

Ken Andrest, a crewman aboard the ferry Canora, saw the man jump to his death about 6 p.m.

Two other crew members, Bert Walker and Fred Bailey, lowered a rowboat and recovered the body.

Wong was taken to a log boom where police and firemen attempted to revive him before rushing him to Royal Jubilee Hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Towed In on Ice Floe

Plane Owners Win Salvage Gamble

CHURCHILL, Man. (CP)—An ice floe bearing a crippled four-engine airliner was tugged into harbor here early Monday, promising a pay-off in a long-shot salvage gamble by the plane's owners.

The transport, a DC-4 belonging to United States overseas airlines, ran out of gas and was forced down on the ice of Hudson bay May 10 after delivering a hush-hush cargo to a post on the Distant Early Warning radar line. Five men aboard were rescued but the plane was too badly damaged to take off again.

Insurance companies declared the $600,000 plane a total loss and are reported to have paid full compensation. But airlines president James Cox persuaded them to sell him back salvage rights for $5,000 and set out to work to save the plane.

A salvage crew was put aboard the ice floe by helicopter and a sister DC-4 dropped bales of hay and sawdust to insulate the ice from the hot June sun.

LOST IN FOG ONCE

The ice island was 40 miles northeast of Churchill, 510 miles north of Winnipeg, when the operation started. As the bay ice began to break up it drifted another 20 miles out to sea and for a time was lost in fog.

During the week-end the weather cleared and two boats and three canoes got lines on the floating pan, dubbed "floe 407." They tuged it into the harbor and "docked" it at the national harbors board pier.

Next move will be to beach the plane.

It was not known immediately how much the airline might clear on the scheme. It was reported to have invested $150,000 in equipment for salvage including two light planes and a helicopter.

While the operation was in progress, the salvage crew lived in the stranded plane. The helicopter flew hot meals from Churchill.

Rich Widow Found Slain

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mrs. Lulubel Rossman, 65-year-old well-to-do Philadelphia widow, was found strangled to death in her 12th-floor room at a mid-town hotel here Monday.

Police said they were without immediate clues to the slayer of the woman, widow of Palen P. Rossman, former senior partner in a firm of certified public accountants.

Veteran Offers Eye to Man He Blinded

Senseless To Put This Man in Jail, Court Says

VANCOUVER (CP) — An air force veteran who offered to give an eye to the man he unwittingly blinded was released Monday by the Court of Appeal on suspended sentence.

Neal Deaville McDonald, 29-year-old smelter worker at Kimberley, B.C., was sentenced to 18 months when he was convicted of assault at Cranbrook June 1.

The incident occurred at a dance when a dispute arose over the merits of television and radio.

Abraham Baumbach, 52, was hit by McDonald and as the result of his glasses being broken, lost the sight of his one good eye.

As counsel for McDonald, M. A. Manson produced evidence to the Court of Appeal Monday that McDonald had offered one of his own eyes.

Baumbach's doctor reported it would be of no use under the circumstances.

McDonald then began to contribute some $40 to $50 monthly toward the support of Baumbach's family, Mr. Manson said.

"It doesn't seem to make sense," said Mr. Justice C. H. O'Halloran, "to send a man of this type to jail for 18 months where he can not earn any money for either his own family or Baumbach's.

"This court has no hesitation in allowing him out on probation to go back to his job and support his wife and two children and help the person he has unwittingly injured."

McDonald was put on $1,000 bond for one year.
